TRICKS OF QUACKS.

LET EVERYBODY READ THIS CAREFULLY.—There is a Sarsaparilla for sale in the different towns called S. P. Townsend's Sarsaparilla. It is advertised as the ORIGINAL, GENUINE, and all that. This Townsend is no doctor and never was; but was formerly a worker on railroads, canals, and the like—yet he assumes the title of Doctor for the purpose of gaining credit for what he is not. He says "he has attended two medical schools, and practiced for fifteen years!" Now the truth is, he never practiced medicine a day in his life! Such wilful, wicked misrepresentation looks bad to the character and veracity of the man. I wish most sincerely, he had never made those statements of himself or of me. When will men learn to be honest and truthful in all their dealings and intercourse with their fellow men! He applied to one Ruel Clapp to assist him in manufacturing his mixture, stating the large sums he would make, as an inducement to embark in the business. These men have been insulting and libelling me in all possible forms, in order to impress the public with the belief that the Old Doctor's Sarsaparilla was not the genuine, original Sarsaparilla, made from the Old Doctor's Original Receipt. This S. P. Townsend says I have sold the use of my name for $7 a week. I will give him $500 if he will produce one single solitary proof of this. His statements of Thompson, Skillman & Co., are nothing but a tissue of falsehoods, simply made to deceive the public, and keep the truth down in regard to his scouring, fermenting compound. This is to caution the public to purchase none but Old Dr. JACOB Townsend's Sarsaparilla, having on it the Old Doctor's likeness, his family Coat of Arms, and his signature across the Coat of Arms.

Principal Office, 102 Nassau-street, N. Y. City.
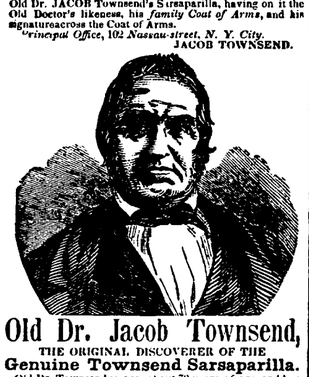
JACOB TOWNSEND.



Old Dr. Jacob Townsend,
THE ORIGINAL DISCOVERER OF THE
Genuine Townsend Sarsaparilla.

Old Dr. Townsend is now about 70 years of age, and has long been known as the AUTHOR and DISCOVERER of the GENUINE ORIGINAL "TOWNSEND SARSAPARILLA." Being poor, he was compelled to limit its manufacture, by which means it has been kept out of market, and the sales circumscribed to those only who had proved its worth, and known its value. It had reached the ears of many, nevertheless, as those persons who had been healed of sore diseases, and saved from death, proclaimed its wonderful

HEALING POWER.

This GRAND AND UNEQUALLED PREPARATION is manufactured on the largest scale, and is called for throughout the length and breadth of the land, especially as it is found incapable of degeneration or deterioration.

Unlike young S. P. Townsend's, it improves with age, and never changes but for the better; because it is prepared on scientific principles by a scientific man. The highest knowledge of Chemistry, and the latest discoveries of the art, have all been brought into requisition to the manufacture of the Old Dr's Sarsaparilla. The Sarsaparilla root, it is well known to medical men, contains many medicinal properties, and some properties which are inert or useless, and others, which if retained in preparing it for use, produce fermentation and acid, which is injurious to the system. Some of the properties of Sarsaparilla are so volatile that they entirely evaporate and are lost in the preparation, if they are not prevented by a scientific process, known only to those experienced in its manufacture. Moreover, these volatile principles, which fly off in vapor, or as an exhalation, under heat, are the very essential medical properties of the root, which give to it all its value.

Any person can boil or stew the root till they get a dark colored liquid, which is more from the coloring matter in the root than from anything else; they can then strain this insipid or acid liquid, sweeten with sour molasses, and then call it "SARSAPARILLA EXTRACT or SYRUP" But such is not the article known as the

GENUINE OLD DR. JACOB TOWNSEND'S SARSAPARILLA.

This is so prepared that all the inert properties of the Sarsaparilla root are first removed, everything capable of becoming acid or fermentation is extracted and rejected, then every particle of medical virtue is secured in a pure, but concentrated form; and thus it is rendered incapable of losing any of its valuable and healing properties. Prepared in this way, it is made the most powerful agent in the Cure of Innumerable Diseases.

Hence the reason why we hear commendations on every side in its favor by men, women, and children. We find it doing wonders in the cure of

CONSUMPTION, DYSPEPSIA, and LIVER-COMPLAINT, and in RHEUMATISM, SCROFULA, PILES, COSTIVENESS, all CUTANEOUS ERUPTIONS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES and all affections arising from

IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

It possesses a marvellous efficacy in all complaints arising from Indigestion, from Acidity of the Stomach, from unequal circulation, determination of blood to the head palpitation of the heart, cold feet and hands, cold chills and hot flashes over the body. It has not its equal in Colds and Coughs; and promotes easy expectoration and gentle perspiration, relaxing strictures of the lungs, throat and every other part.

But in nothing is its excellence more manifestly seen and acknowledged than in all kinds and stages of

FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

It works wonders in cases of Fluor Albus or Whites Falling of the Womb, Obstructed, Suppressed, or Painful Menses, Irregularity of the menstrual periods, and the like and is effectual in curing all the forms of Kidney Disease.

By removing obstructions, and regulating the genera system, it gives tone and strength to the whole body, and thus cures all forms of and thus prevents or relieves a great variety of other maladies, as Spinal irritation, Neuralgia, St. Vitus' Dance, Swooning, Epileptic Fits, Convulsions, &c.

Nervous Diseases and Debility,

It cleanses the blood, excites the liver to healthy action tones the stomach, and gives good digestion, relieves the bowels of torpor and constipation, allays inflammation, purifies the skin, equalizes the circulation of the blood, producing gentle warmth equally all over the body, and the insensible perspiration; relaxes strictures and tightness, removes all obstructions, and invigorates the entire nervous system. Is not this then

The Medicine you pre-eminently need?

But can any of these things be said of S. P. Townsend's inferior article? This young man's friend is not to be

COMPARED WITH THE OLD DR'S,

because of one GRAND FACT, that the one is INCAPABLE OF DETERIORATION, and while the other DOES: souring, fermenting, and blowing the bottles containing it into fragments; the sour, acid liquid exploding, and damaging other goods! Must not the horrible compound be poisonous to the system?—What! put acid into a system already diseased with acid? What causes Dyspepsia but acid? Do we not all know that when food sours in our stomachs, what mischief it produces?—flatulence, heartburn, palpitation of the heart, liver complaint, diarrhœa, dysentery, colic, and corruption of the blood? What is Scrofula but an acid humor in the body? What produces all the humors which bring on Eruptions of the Skin, Scald Head, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, White Swellings, Fever Sores, and all ulcerations internal and external? It is nothing under heaven but an acid substance, which sours and thus spoils all the fluids of the body, more or less. What causes Rheumatism but a sour and acid fluid which insinuates itself between the joints and elsewhere, irritating and inflaming the delicate tissues upon which it acts? So of nervous diseases, of impurity of the blood, of deranged circulation, and nearly all the ailments which afflict human nature.

NEVER SPOILS.

Now is it not horrible to make and sell, and infinitely worse to use this and yet he would fain have it understood that Old Dr. Jacob Townsend's Genuine Original Sarsaparilla, is an IMITATION of his inferior preparation!!

SOURING, FERMENTING, ACID "COMPOUND" OF S. P. TOWNSEND,

Heaven forbid that we should deal in an article which would bear the most distant resemblance to S. P. Townsend's article!

We wish it understood, because it is the absolute truth, that S. P. Townsend's article and old Dr. Jacob Townsend's Sarsaparilla are toto-as-wide apart, and infinitely dissimilar; that they are unlike in every particular, having not one single thing in common.

As S. P. Townsend is no doctor, and never was, is no chemist, no pharmaceutist—knows no more of medicine or disease than any other common, unscientific, unprofessional man, what guarantee can the public have that they are receiving a genuine scientific medicine, containing all the virtues of the articles used in preparing it, and which are incapable of changes which might render them the AGENTS of Disease instead of health?

But what else should be expected from one who knows nothing comparatively of medicine or disease? It requires a person of some experience to cook and serve up even a common decent meal. How much more important is it that the persons who manufacture medicines designed for should know well the medical properties of plants, the best manner of securing and concentrating their healing virtues, also an extensive knowledge of the various diseases which affect the human system, and how to adapt remedies to these diseases!

It is to arrest frauds upon the unfortunate, to pour balm into wounded humanity, to kindle hope in the despairing bosom, to restore health, and bloom, and vigor into the crushed and broken, and to banish infirmity that OLD DR. JACOB TOWNSEND has SOUGHT and FOUND the opportunity and means to bring his within the reach, and to the knowledge of all who need it that they may learn and know, by joyful experience, its Transcendent Power to Heal.

POETRY.

From the Louisville Journal.

OCTOBER.

BY J. R. BARRICK.

The mild October month is come
In all her pomp again;
I trace her in the varied tints
Of forest, field and plain;
I hear her sad and solemn winds
Sigh through the leafy trees,
I hear the dirge of summer flowers
Borne on the passing breeze.

Month of my heart! I ever love
In thy domains to be;
I love thy blue and sunny skies—
Thy quiet days to see;
Now gladly from the crowd I turn
My course to wood and wild,
To breathe the life of autumn air,
As when a sinless child.

The woods are clothed in crimson hue,
The fields in auburn dye;
I gaze out on the wide earth round,
And on the boundless sky—
My heart is filled with a sweet thought
Of beauty and of love,
While peace seems brooding o'er each scene
Around me and above.

The beautiful of earth must fade—
They blossom but to die,
And in the cold and silent ground
Must man forgotten lie—
Yet in the dying leaves and flowers,
A lesson we may learn,
And by its moral teach our hearts
No more on earth to yearn.

Each falling leaf but tells me of
Some fading hope of earth,
Each flower that wasting, fading lies,
Points backward to its birth,
Tells how, in spring's elysian clime,
It lived on balmy dew,
And how, through summer's sun and rain,
Its tender blossoms grew.

And as I mark its transient course
From earth to earth again—
How in the summer days it lived,
How died in autumn's reign—
I think of life—its changing day,
Of sunshine and of gloom,
How soon earth's proudest noblest forms,
Sink in the silent tomb.

GLASGOW, KY., Oct. 1850.

THE CURE FOR AN INVALID.

"My! Oh my," soliloquized Charles Seaton; "it is too bad. I never come home but my wife is sick and complaining; she won't talk, read or make the least exertion for my comfort. I am obliged to seek pleasure and enjoyment any where but at my own fireside; and this is only the second year of married life, and if it continues thus, I wonder where it will end? In wishing myself a bachelor I expect, but let me see—I have it now and I think it will cure her. However, there is no harm in the experiment. For she is forever lying on the sofa, or sick in bed—yet she looks remarkably well for one that eats nothing. I generally take my meals alone as she is too ill to come to the table, and I see she is not coming down to tea; so I will not go to her room this time to enquire after her health."

After tea, Charles took a cigar and walked through the hall, puffing, with all his might, volumes of smoke to keep his courage to the sticking point. He went out in search of company to spend the evening with; but feeling rather uncomfortable, as it was the first time he had shown his wife so little attention, and being one who was fondly in favor of domestic happiness, he concluded to return home and not enter those dens which have ruined so many. He reëntered the house, silently, and seated himself in the back-parlor, for he distinctly heard his wife's voice in the dining-room.

She had come down as soon as she learned her husband had left the house so unceremoniously. Entering the dining room, wrapped in a large shawl, she seated herself at the table in an indolent and careless manner, and half audibly murmured to the maid of the work:

"Has Charles gone out without coming to see how I was? And oh, my head aches wretchedly, and I feel so miserable!" she continued, placing her hands to her temples.

"A little tea and toast will help you, ma'am," said the serving-maid.

"Well, I think I will try a little," drawled out Mrs. Seaton.

A large slice was quickly prepared for her; and Betty noticed that she relished it exceedingly; so she thought she might as well tempt her appetite a little by decanting upon the delicacies that were set before her.

"Have a bit of chicken," said Betty, "for it will give you such a lot of natural strength—it is done brown, and not a bit too rich for you, neither, ma'am."

"I will take a small piece," answered the invalid, and a slice of tongue with cranberry sauce, and you may hand me a biscuit, for they look tempting, and my appetite seems to increase. I will have some chicken salad, and my appetite seems to increase. I will have some chicken salad, and another cup of tea, Betty, and some grated cheese, and a soda-cracker.

The poor servant girl began to look aghast as she feared the table would soon be cleared and nothing left for herself.

"Will madam have anything else?" she inquired with a grave look.

"Yes—I believe I will try a preserved peach with cream, and a slice of jelly-cake! Dear me," she continued as she heard the door close, "I feel very ill, and I think I shall be obliged to lie down!" She tottered into the room, and sinking upon the sofa as she observed her husband, who had opened and closed the door as if he had just entered.

"Well, Helen," he said, "are you better this evening?"

"Oh, no, Charles," she answered faintly, "come and fix the pillow under my head and spread the shawl over me—the least exertion almost kills me."

"Laziness, and a disposition to affect the invalid," thought Charles, as he was in search of a book to while away the hours. Mrs. Seaton's cousin this evening?" inquired Kate, while bending over the invalid.

"I continue to grow worse," she answered with her eyes closed.

"Her appetite has failed," replied Mr. Seaton, with mocking seriousness, "and medical skill availeth nothing. I fear she will never recover."

A shriek in pain announced that the bait took well, as she was very anxious to impress her husband with the idea that her frail, delicate health was fast giving away; and she was exceedingly fond of being petted.

"Kate," said Charles, "favor us with some music; you are such an excellent performer, and it has been so long since I have heard good music. Helen never plays now, and I often wonder how she could give it up, for she used to play a great deal, and always tried to please and fascinate me before we were married, and I wish she would do so now!"

"Charles, Charles!" she cried, "you know I have been too ill."

"I beg your pardon, Helen, you are ill so much, that I sometimes forget it."

Kate, fearing a scene, touched the keys of the piano with exquisite grace; and her sweet voice warbled the song of the "Bachelor's Dream." And many beautiful songs were sung, while Charles bent over her, seemingly so delighted that he forgot the presence of his invalid wife. When Kate rose from the instrument, he whispered:

"Kate, you must accede to what I say, as I am about to try an effectual cure for my wife's illness."

Kate bowed her head with a mischievous smile, and her beautiful eyes danced with delight at the idea of such rich sport—for Kate was a fun-loving girl—all life and animation with a heart that delighted in the happiness of others. She had an intuitive knowledge of Charles's unhappiness.

"My cousin sleeps," said Kate, as she seated herself.

"We will let her rest, as sleep is the only remedy for one so ill," replied Mr. Seaton, drawing his chair very near Kate, and taking her hand, he remarked, "what a diminutive and delicately formed hand you have—it is even more beautiful than Helen's;" and gazing on her as if enraptured with loveliness, he continued, "you are the most bewitching beauty I ever saw. Why did I not know you before I was married?"

"Cease, Charles," said Kate imploringly.

"And won't you remain single for my sake, dear girl? as you know Helen can't last much longer in the present state, and you would make such a loving wife, and use every exertion to insure my happiness. Say, Kate, will you wait for me?"

"Shame, shame, Charles," cried Kate; "how can you say so before Helen is dead, but I suppose I may as well promise, as I have no doubt you are my beau ideal of perfection," continued Kate, with a smile of merriment.

"Dear, noble girl," answered Charles. "In a few months and we——"

"Ungrateful, inconstant creature, dare you insult your wife thus?" wildly exclaimed Helen, as she flew between them like a young tigress, and, "Oh, can it be possible," she continued, bursting into a passion of tears, "that I have outlived your affection, and you have already began to lay out plans for one to supplant me? But I will see that you do not get rid of me so easily. No—I will live and frustrate your unreasonable plans. And remember, Charles, I am not always asleep when my eyes are closed."

"Nor ill when you complain," answered he with a mischievous smile.

"Unkind, cruel Charles, to care so little for my illness. What has come over you to change you so suddenly?" And turning to Kate, she exclaimed, with a frowning brow and eyes flooded with tears, "foolish, misguided girl, what have you done? But you shall pay for this."

"Cease, Helen," cried Charles, "do not get into such a passion—you will kill yourself immediately; pray be calm; you are so weak from continued suffering, that you will injure yourself."

"Weak indeed!" she exclaimed. "I am not at all ill, your heartless conduct has quite restored my health."

Kate was about to explain the whole affair when Charles turned upon her a beseeching look to desist. Mrs. Seaton called the serving boy to wait upon Kate home, as she would not permit her husband to go. Poor Kate! she began to think she had to pay rather dear for a joke. However, she concluded to let it rest until Charles saw fit to explain it to Helen.

The cure took amazingly. Mrs. Seaton was well enough to come down to breakfast with an improved appetite. She pouted, yet that was more agreable to Charles than her continual complaints, and when he returned home in the evening she was practising her music, and a work-table sat in the center of the room, upon which stood a lighted lamp and all the et ceteras of a lady's industry, together with the evening paper.

At tea she conversed with her usual vivacity, and the evening passed more pleasantly than any he had spent at home for several months. She continued to improve each succeeding day, her health recovered rapidly, and all drugs were banished from her room.

Charles explained the farce, and sometime afterwards he whispered lovingly in her ear: "Helen, dear, shall I bring Kate to spend the evening with us?"

"No, no," she answered, "I will be equally agreeable as Kate. Dear, good Kate, she spent the day with me yesterday, and I owe her much for the valuable lesson she taught me. And you say, dear Charles, if I had not changed, you would have been driven to seek company among those dissolute beings who frequent the halls of Bacchus?"

Charles made no reply, for his risible faculties were in full play while he thought how successful he had been in procuring—the cure for an invalid.

LIST OF ACTS

The South and the Union.—Accounts from the south confirm us in the belief that the great mass of the people are firm in their devotion to the Union. All the clamor we have heard about dissolution has been made by a few mad-cap incendiaries, whose monomania on the subject of slavery has led them far beyond what the public sentiment in their respective states will sustain them in.

Enthusiastic Union meetings have been held in Monroe and Troute counties, Georgia, at both of which resolutions were adopted, declaring that so long as the north fulfils the stipulations of compromise bill, so long will the south abide by them.

The Athens Banner, a democratic journal, says Gov. Towns's proclamation is "but a solemn mummery, under the existing calm of public opinion, after the late adjustment of the slavery question by Congress."

A great Union meeting was held in Macon, Ga., on the 26th ultimo, at which Judge T. G. Holt presided. Among the resolutions adopted was one that the citizens of Bibb county pledge "their time, talents, means, and, if necessary, their lives," in defence of the Union. Similar meetings in various parts of the South are now being held. The Union party is evidently in the ascendant there as elsewhere.

A similar meeting has been held in Mobile. In Jackson, Mississippi, a large and enthusiastic meeting was held, in pursuance of a call signed by 500 of the principal citizens of the vicinity, at which resolutions were adopted, denouncing the Nashville "Convention and all its works;"—thanking Senator Foote for the enlightened and patriotic course he pursued in the late session of Congress;—denouncing the conduct of the Legislature in pledging the state of Mississippi to abide by the decision of the Nashville Convention as "a presumptuous usurpation, wholly unauthorised by the people of the state;"—opposing the adoption of the line of 36 deg. 30 min. as the boundary between slave and free territory, as in direct opposition to the doctrine of non-intervention, which we still maintain as the only true constitutional position;"—opposing the reassembling of the Nashville Convention;—and instructing their Legislators "to oppose all measures tending to a dissolution of the Union."

All accounts from the South agree that the popular discontent is every where subsiding. The people are nauseated with the demagogueism of the agitators, and disposed peaceably to acquiesce in the measures of pacification adopted by Congress. The whole excitement is kept up by a set of desperate political adventurers and fanatics, who seek in the turmoil they hope to create, an opportunity to ride into power and office.

Ohio Election.—The democrats have elected their Governor and Member of the Board of Public Works by some 10 to 15,000 majority. For the Legislature, owing to unfortunate dissensions in some democratic districts, and criminal apathy in others, they have not done so well. The Senate stands—16 democrats, 17 whigs, 3 free soilers; the House—33 whigs, 32 democrats, 8 free soilers.

An U. S. Senator is to elected next winter.

Pennsylvania Redeemed!—Although our returns from the Keystone State are not complete, enough have been received to show that the entire democratic state ticket is elected by an overwhelming majority. The Congressional delegation will stand 14 democrats to 10 whigs—a democratic gain of 6!! the present delegation being 8 democrats to 16 whigs. In the State Senate the democrats will have a majority of one or two; and quite a large majority in the House of Representatives.

The notorious Lewis C. Levin, Native American member of the present Congress, was, we rejoice to say, handsomely defeated by T. B. Florence, democrat.

The Fugitive Slave Law.

This obnoxious bill is creating quite an excitement in many places—especially in New York and New England. It was, in our humble opinion, an impolitic measure, totally uncalled for, and one which, unless speedily repealed, will lead to trouble. It has been a perfect godsend to the abolitionists, in giving them something by which to keep up the agitation on that everlasting slavery topic, which might otherwise have subsided in consequence of the question being adjusted by the passage of the other measures of compromise adopted by the late Congress.

There is something so repugnant to the feelings of citizens of free states in being compelled to aid the southern man-catchers to drag fellow creatures into bondage, that the abolitionists will never want for a subject to keep alive the agitation, as long as the bill remains in force. It is so utterly obnoxious to public sentiment that we do not believe it can ever be enforced without creating excitement and trouble.

We give below a few extracts, showing how the bill is viewed in the free states:

BOSTON, Oct. 15.

A large meeting of the opponents of the Fugitive Slave law, was held at Faneuil Hall last night. The Hon. Francis Adams presided. A letter from the Hon. Josiah Quincy, sen. was read, regretting his unavoidable absence.

Frederick Douglass, and many others addressed the meeting—the law was declared unconstitutional, and a large committee of vigilance was appointed.

Meeting of the Colored Population of Chicago.—The colored citizens of Chicago held a meeting on Tuesday evening, to express themselves against the Fugitive Slave law lately passed. Speeches were made, and resolutions significant of the sentiment of the assemblage, passed. The Journal says: "there is a strong and deep feeling among the colored population in this city, numbering not less than five hundred persons, to resist to the last, every effort made to bear back to bondage, any one of their number—to rally and defend each other, at the risk of imprisonment, fine, limb, and life itself.

The Editor of the Detroit Tribune passing through Sandusky City, a few days since, writes to his paper that:

"Senator Chase, of this state last night spoke to a large audience in this state on the Fugitive Slave Bill. The excitement here on this question is great. It is said that over 200 negroes have left or passed through this city, within the last two days for Canada. Every train of cars from the south brings numbers of them off for Her Majesty's dominions."

HONESDALE, Oct. 4th.

A great excitement has been created in this community by the appearance of two men from the south, who are after a beautiful creole, the wife of a Mr. Evans, and who they say is a runaway slave. If she is discovered, it will be hardly possible for them to take her, the feeling is so strong against them.

BOSTON, Oct. 5.

A great free soil meeting was held in Lowell last night, at which with shouts of applause, a resolution was passed to call back three fugitive slaves who had fled from that city to Canada, with a pledge that they shall be protected from arrest by the citizens of Lowell.

OSWEGO, Oct. 1.

The fugitive slave law is causing some excitement here among the colored population, who have organised themselves to resist any attempts upon their liberty.

Those Apples which we noticed in our last, are of the variety known by the name of Emperor Alexander. They are a splendid fruit, and should be found in every orchard.—We understand Messrs. Rockhill & Tyler have a number of trees of this variety for sale at their nursery in this place.

Dr. Rutherford's Lectures.

The highly interesting course of Physiological Lectures by Dr. Rutherford were brought to a close on Monday evening last. As an act of justice to the lecturer, and information to the citizens of other places he may visit, we feel called upon to state that the lectures have been in the highest degree satisfactory, interesting, and profitable to the crowded audiences who have attended them. As we have, on former occasions, during the progress of the course, spoken in terms of commendation of these lectures, we refrain from saying more at present, and conclude with an extract from an able article on the subject, in the last Times, which fully expresses our views, and, we venture to add, the views of most of those who were fortunate enough to hear Dr. Rutherford.

"As a lecturer, we may safely say he has but few superiors in style of thought or the maturity with which he digested his subjects. Having a perfect command of language and a pleasing ease in delivery, he does not weary his audience by monotony or triteness.

"He has so far made himself master of the topics of which he speaks, and so constantly, yet gently leads the mind from one truth to another, that it does not become weary however long his lecture may be.

"His lectures embrace a general view of the osceous or bony structure of the human frame; an outline of the muscular or fleshy part of bodies; a view of the circulatory system, embracing the ramifications of the arteries and veins; the manner in which they are supplied with the vital fluid, that the various parts of the system may be invigorated with nourishment which has been prepared by the complicated process of the digestion of the various kinds of food which we have eaten.

"He next treats of the delightful beauties found in the complicated character of the nervous system, and illustrates and explains the apparently mysterious phenomena existing in the relation of body and mind; demonstrating that from the various characters and conformation of these parts and organs, we may form an estimate of the instinctive and intellectual power of man.

"These various topics are treated, in a plain yet beautiful manner; being freed, as far as possible, from technicalities usually found connected with such subjects.

"The subject of Mental Philosophy in his hands seems freed from much of the logical metaphysics with which we usually find it burthened.

"With happy effect he demonstrates that the mind [in its healthy condition] holds supreme command of the various active phenomena, observable in the organism of the human body.

"In the Anatomical and Physiological demonstrations he is correct and clear; making these subjects which are usually counted dry and difficult, comprehensible and pleasing to the most ordinary intellect."

NOTICE.—The establishment of the Lafayette Courier is offered for sale. For location and business it is one of the most desirable in the state. This volume expires on the first of December next, which will be a convenient period for a change. For further information address the office.

The population of Lafayette is stated to be 6,528. That of Logansport 2,205.

The Wheelbarrow Man.—This well know and indefatigable individual, who started on a "tramp" across the plains to California with a wheelbarrow, in which to carry his "plunder," has arrived at Sacramento City in safety. He left his wheelbarrow at Fort Hall, and attached himself to a company, thinking, very correctly, that however easily he might progress on the broad and level prairies, the Sierra Nevada might prove an ugly customer. That man will get rich, if it is possible; mark it. His energy will "put him through."

The New Route.—By the St. Lawrence, the Ogdensburg and Rouse's Point Rail Road, Lake Champlain, northern N. Y. Canal, and the Hudson River is now open, and the Freight Tariff contains some important facts. Flour, for example, can be contracted to New York by this route at 75 cents per bbl. from Toledo. Cargoes of Western produce passing over the Rail Road, flour excepted, coming through the Welland Canal, and destined to the Atlantic Cities will be allowed a discount from the established rates, equal to the tells charged on the Canal, and freight in quantities of ten tons and upwards, coming from the Atlantic Cities, and destined to the Upper Lakes, will be allowed a drawback equal to the tolls charged thereon by the canal.—Toledo Blade.

THE BOUNTY LAND BILL will be found on our first page. We give below an admirable circular on the subject, issued by the Secretary of the Interior, by which it will be seen that the administration intends giving every facility to the soldiers in proving their claims, and availing themselves of the bounty of Congress, without being put to unnecessary trouble, or compelled to pay extravagant charges to lawyers or other agents to prepare the requisite papers. We feel a pleasure in having this opportunity of commending the course of an administration to which we are politically opposed; it is one that must meet the approval of all—those who are immediately benefitted, as well as those who wish to see the soldiers receive the full benefit of the liberality shown to them by a grateful country.

We will publish the forms and instructions prepared by the department, in our next.

Official.—The Bounty Land Bill.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, Oct. 3, 1850.

The Congress of the United States, at its late session, having, in a spirit of justice and liberality, passed an act "granting bounty land to certain officers and soldiers who have been engaged in the military service of the United States" the President has esteemed it no less a privilege than a duty to adopt all the means in his power to give prompt and efficient operation to this beneficent measure.

I deem it proper, therefore, to announce to those entitled to the benefits of this law, that with his sanction, I have caused all the necessary forms and instructions to guide claimants in applying for and obtaining their rights to be prepared, and they are now in the hands of the printer. At the earliest practicable moment copies of these papers will be forwarded to each member of Congress, and to the clerk of the court of every county in the United States.

It will be his purpose to administer the law in such a manner as to make it what Congress designed it to be, a bounty to the soldier, and not to agents and speculators. The forms and the mode of proof have therefore been made as simple as possible, and every facility will be afforded to establish their just demands.—Clerks are now engaged in preparing from the rolls on file, certificates of service, in order that those who have not received discharges, or have accidentally lost them, may not be disappointed in obtaining their just reward.

The policy of this law in all its provisions is to discourage speculation in the claims of soldiers. The act provides "that all sales, mortgages, letters of attorney, and other instruments of writing going to affect the title or claim to any warrant herein before provided for, made or executed prior to the issue, shall be null and void to all intents and purposes whatsoever, nor shall such certificate or warrant, or the land obtained thereby, be in any wise affected by, or charged with, or subject to, the payment of any debt or claim incurred by such officer or soldier prior to the issuing of the patent."

In his judgment the issue contemplated in the body of the above recited clause of the law is the issue of the patent. Consequently, all sales, transfers, assignments, and incumbrances of soldiers' land claims, made before the emanation of the patents, are void, and will be disregarded by the Government. Speculators are therefore admonished that they can acquire no rights by purchase which will be recognized by this Department.

I feel it to be my duty, also, to warn the frank and confiding soldier against the arts and devices of agents, who will seek to exaggerate the difficulties of obtaining the land, in order to enhande their own charges.

The evidence of service exists among the archives of the country. In nine cases out of the only proof required will be the identity of the applicant, or of the marriage and widowhood, or heirship. These are facts readily proven, and therefore the difficulties will in most cases be merely nominal. And to remove even these slight obstacles, and to give more full and complete effect to the munificence of the Government, I beg leave respectfully to recommend to the proper authorities of each county and township, to employ a suitable agent, at the expense of the county, to supervise the preparation of the applications and proofs of claimants. The ignorant and unwary would thus be protected from imposition, the poor soldier from burdens they are not able to bear, and the government from many embarrassments which may result from the awkwardness of incompetent agents.

In conclusion, I desire to say that great care will be used to guard against undue preferences of one class of applicants over others. With this view, at the proper time, a sufficient number of clerks will be employed to issue the certificates with the least possible delay, so that all may have an equal chance of making advantageous locations.

ALEX. H. H. STUART,
Secretary of the Interior.

Proceedings of the Constitutional Convention.

The Convention has not yet made much progress in business. Various propositions have been made in relation to the plan to be adopted for the business of the Convention; and finally the one proposed by Mr. Reed of Monroe was adopted: it provides that a committee of two from each congressional district be appointed to prepare the plan of business. The committee reported 21 different committees, to whom shall be referred all such matters as properly belong to each. The report was adopted, and the committees appointed as will be seen below.

Several amendments to the constitution have been proposed, and laid on the table; but now the necessary committees have been appointed, we trust the business of the convention will be progressed with in good earnest; that no Buncombe resolutions may be entertained; but that the members apply themselves strictly to a faithful discharge of their duty; and finally that they prepare a good constitution, and adjourn with as little delay as practicable.

MONDAY MORNING, Oct. 14, 1850.

The President announced the following standing committees.

Newman, Rariden, Graham, Smith, [of R.] Hamilton, Read, [of M.] Hall, Kilgore, Pepper, [of O.] Morrison, [of W.] Ritchey, Wallace, Dobson and Walpole.

Mr. Maguire, moved to take up the rules, which was done.

The rules were then separately read for adoption, and, after some slight amendment, were adopted.

On motion of Mr. Hall the several submitted by him on Wednesday last were taken from the table, and were referred to the appropriate committees.

The report of the select committee in relation to the State Printer, was taken up, but, before any action was had, the Convention adjourned.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Convention met. The report of the select committee declaring that the State printer of the convention, was taken up, an after discussion in favor of concurrence, by Messrs. Biddle, Niles, Holman, Steele, Bascom, Foster, and against it by Messrs. Nave, Howe, and Pettit, it was concurred in.

Mr. Bascom introduced a resolution providing for the election of a Printer to the convention on to-morrow. Laid on the table.

Several resolutions were introduced and apdropriately reffered.

The convention adjourned.

TUESDAY Oct. 15,

RESOLUTIONS OFFERED:

Indianapolis Correspondence.

DEAR SIR:—

The Convention is organised, and I regret to add, the Democrats met as a party, nominate their candidates, and elected none but such as they nominated. I came, determined to know no party, and to vote for the best men whose names were presented for the different offices. I don't know but those elected were as good as any we could have had. I am inclined to think it is so, so far as the President of the Convention is concerned; yet it looked like proscription to the minority, not leaving them a choice among the great men.

Some sharp shooting has commenced among the leaders, each trying to out-do the others in motions and speeches. Too much of it is done by two or three would be leaders, who will be very likely to find their cue, if not admonished by hints already received, that the affairs of the people of Indiana don't rest upon their shoulders solely. My impression is, that much of the time of the Convention will be consumed in making speeches for home use—many of them on questions totally irrevelant. I would like to see less speaking and more acting. Two of our democratic friends have already poised their lances, and gave each other some severe thrusts, which I am glad to see suppressed in the reports, as it did credit to neither.

I will write to you from time to time during our sitting. Yours,

ALLEN HAMILTON.

MR. THOS. TIGAR.

P. S. Having so many talking members, it strikes me the session will continue longer than it ought; yet all of them talk of economy. It is no doubt their theory, but not their practice.

District Schools.

MR. EDITOR:—A meeting of the Voters of the "West end" of this City, being District No. 2, was held in the 2d Presbyterian Church, on Saturday evening last, and adjourned to meet again on Saturday evening next, at the same place.

Owing, probably, to a limited notice, and the first action in this district under the late school law, there was a small attendance. It was decided that the district Trustee make enquiry for School room and Teacher, and report to the adjourned meeting on Saturday evening.

The law requires that a free school be kept at least three months, to entitle the district to its share of the school fund. It is estimated that from $500 to $800 will be our share this year. The expense of a school for three months will be from $100 to $150, on an economical scale to secure the funds; leaving some $350 to continue a school the remainder of the year, or to purchase a lot on which to erect a school house.

There is a special provision in the law, authoring the voters at a dis rict meeting to vote an additional tax of fifteen cents on each one hundred dollars of property in the district, to aid in building, and other expenses of a free school.

In taking measueres to stablish a free school it is of some importance that the subject be well considered. And if it be desirable to act under the law for the establishing of a free school, to be essentially useful at once, an increased income is necessary this year. My object in this brief notice is to call attention to subject, and voters to the meeting, who, if absent, may find themselves assessed fifteen cents on each $100 by those who have favorable feelings towards laying the foundation for a respectable and efficient district free school.

Dangerous Position of Marshal Haynau at Hanover.—The Zeitung fur Norddeutschland, of the 11th instant, announces the arrival of General Haynau at Hanover, and the outbreak of some petty disturbances in consequence of a mob wishing to attack the hotel in which the Marshal had taken his quarters. Several arrests took place, and it was found necessary to disperse the crowd by means of the civic guard. The Paris correspondent of the Times states that a police force had to protect Gen. Haynau "from the violence of the democrats of Cologne, who wished to imitate the draymen of London."

Haynau.—The following inscription may be seen chalked upon a wall at Bankside, in the neighborhood of Barclay & Perkins' brewery:—"Near this spot, in the arms of the police, and covered with dirt, fell General Haynau, Sept. 4, 1850." "The very stones do prate his whereabouts."

Heynau Again.—Haynau, it seems, left England within two days after being mobbed, denouncing the British people, as he went, as the most brutal and inhospitable on the globe. He had intended to visit Paris on his return, but fearing a popular outbreak there also, he turned aside towards Cologne, in Germany.—He was, however, recognized in the railroad car, and when he reached the city, not an omnibus, chais or hack driver would carry him or his baggage to a hotel, and finally the police had to interfere to procure him a lodging.—Haynau has found, by this time, that the tyrant and oppressor, however he may succeed at home, is the execration of all free people abroad.

A TRUE PATRIOT.—The Shelbyville Volunteer tells the following incident:

When Capt. McKenzey started with his noble company of volunteers, (Com. E. 5th Ind. Reg.) from this place for Madison, bound for Mexico, 133 in number, he had but a solitary dime in his pocket, and arrived at Madison entirely destitute of funds for the supply of his men. Finding himself and his men in rather a bad fix, destitute of means in a strange place, he resolved to try some expedient to get a little of "the needful." Accordingly, he applied to the bank, but his strange face would'nt command the money without a responsible endorser. The Captain mentioned over several names whom he thought responsible, and asked if they would do. The bank officers said they were not acquainted much with them,—"but they were well acquainted with one Jesse D. Bright!" The Captain taking the hint, and not suffering much from bashfulness, was determined to find out who this Jesse D. Bright was, rather than let his soldiers suffer. After some search and enquiry, he found him on the wharf, and made known his errand and his name. Mr. B. asked Capt. McKenzey if he had charge of that company of noble fellows that arrived in town last evening from Shelby County. He told him he had. Without further ceremony Mr. B. proceeded with the Captain to the bank and drew for him what money he required, ($400.) which was a great accommodation to both officers and men.

TERRIBLE DISASTER.—Collision at Sea—24 Lives Lost.—The steamboat Southerner, Captain Berry, which plies between New York and Charleston, on her northern passage Friday morning, about two o'clock, ran into the barque Isaac Mead, from this port to Savannah. The accident occurred in lat 33. deg., 30., according to the log, when the wind was blowing a gale to the north, and the sea was high. A sail was descried on the larboard bow of the steamer, when her helm was put hard a-port and her engine backed, but unfortunately the bark, supposing the steamer to be a ship standing in to the shore, put her helm to the starboard to cross the steamer's bows, when she was struck, and sunk in less than five minutes. Hearing cries of distress on all sides, the crew and passengers of the steamer launched three of Francis' life boats, and succeeded in rescuing seven of the crew of the Isaac Mead, and two passengers. There were thirty-three passengers in all on board, so that twenty-four persons were lost.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 11.

Pennsylvania Elections.—In Philadelphia City and County the majority for amendment to the Constitution is 12,811, official; Florence's (democrat) majority over Levin (Native) in the first district is 1,188. So far the democrats have gained six members of Congress in this state, and lost one.

The Overland Immigrants.—A letter from Mr. Johnson, who took charge of the company which started from Sacramento, with supplies for the overland imigrants, is published in the Placer Times. It is dated Carson's river, August 9. He arrived there on the 5th, in advance of his train, and found much destitution among the immigrants. He bought up all the flour that he could procure, and, dividing it into rations of five pounds, distributed it as occasion required.

The San Francisco Herald says:

"There are now on the overland route not less than sixty thousand persons. The first of those who have arrived endured privations and sufferings innumerable, and it is but natural to expect that those who come later in the season will suffer more severely still. The forty miles of desert which stretch from the base of the Sierra Nevada are strewn with the bodies of bead cattle, while several persons have been found drowned, some by accident in crossing the river, and, more lamentable still, some by their own act, having been driven to utter despair by their misfortunes.

"It is proposed to send out another expedition, with the view of establishing a depot of provisions at the edge of the desert, and a united effort is to be made all over the State to aid in this charitable undertaking. We wish that, by any feeble word of ours, we could impress upon this this community the terrible necessity which exists for prompt and speedy action. It is to be apprehended that hundreds (God preserve us) have already died with with hunger, and hundreds will as surely die if they be not speedily relieved."

The most praiseworthy exertions appear to be making at San Francisco to raise funds for the relief of this suffering. The paper before us acknowledges the receipt of over four thousand dollars in money, and a large amount of provisions.

The Pennsylvanian, in noticing the recent paragraph in the papers, that General Joseph Lane intended returning home by the 1st. of December next, says "that he will receive such a welcome from the people of the West, as is never given to any but the greatest of their public men."

This is true, and deserving as it true. We know of no public man in the United States, whom the masses express more regard for, or confidence in, than General Lane. In a late visit to Ohio, we met several gentlemen who were with this noble hero in the war with Mexico, and they spoke of him in terms of the highest eulogy. Wherever he goes, he commands the highest respect and admiration.—N. A. Ledger.

VIRGINIA.—The Household Troops.—It will be recollected that it was some time before Fillmore could get any one to accept the office of Secretary of the Interior. A good thing is told in relation to the appointment of this Cabinet Secretary.

"I knew" said a clerk in one of the departments, from Virginia, "that the President could not get along without a Virginian in his Cabinet." "Yes, responded a gentleman to whom the remark was addressed, "Mr. Fillmore, worn ont by refusals of the Secretaryship by men from other states, was at last compelled to go to Virginia, for he knew very well that no man in that state would ever decline an office."

One who knows what is going on, or has been makes the estimate that there are in office under the general government, in one place and another, seventy-three relatives of Mr. Thomas Ewing, of Ohio.—N. Y. Herald.

A Rare Speculation!

THE Undersigned offers a good opportunity to any one desirous purchasing a valuable Mill property, with a farm attached. The property is situated four miles from the city of Fort Wayne, and two miles above Fairfield & Freeman's mill, on the St. Mary's river. It is now improved with a good new and substantial Saw Mill, with a permanent dam—one of the best on the river; the supply of water is unfailing for the saw mill, and most of the year there is sufficiency for a grist mill. The saw mill is entirely new, and in first rate running order. There is attached to the mill 80 acres of rich bottom land, about 24 acres of which is under cultivation, and the remainder well timbered. Near the mill there is a good house, and a good well of water in the yard. Any number of logs can be purchased in the vicinity, and being handy to market, makes the situation altogether one of the most desirable ones in the county. My reason for offering it for sale is, that my son who has had charge of it is anxious to move to Iowa, and I am unable to attend to it. Terms made easy.—Call and see it.

MARRIAGE:

WHY SO OFTEN UNHAPPY.

THE CAUSES AND THE REMEDY!

MANY and many a wife endures years of bodily suffering and of mental anguish, prostrate and helpless, embittering her life, that of her husband, and hazarding the future welfare of her children, arising from causes which, if known, would have spared the suffering, the anguish to the wife, and to the husband embarrassments and pecuniary difficulties having their origin in the mind being weighed down and harassed in consequence of the sickness of the companion of his bosom.

How important that the causes should be known to every wife, to every husband, that the dreadful and harrowing consequences to the health and happiness of both may be avoided! Life is too short and health too precious to admit any portion of the one to be spent without the full enjoyment of the other. The timely possession of a little work entitled as follows has been the means of saving the health and the life of thousands, as over copies have been sold since the first edition was issued.

The author has been induced to advertise it by the urgent and pressing request of those who have been indebted to its publication for all they hold dear (that all may have an opportunity of obtaining it), and who have favored him with thousands of letters of encomium, some of which are annexed to the advertisement.

THE MARRIED WOMAN'S Private Medical Companion.

BY DR. A. M. MAURICEAU,
PROFESSOR OF DISEASES OF WOMEN.

Twentieth Edition. 18mo., pp. 250. Price, $1.00.

THIS WORK IS INTENDED ESPECIALLY FOR THE MARRIED, or those contemplating marriage, as it discloses important secrets which should be known to them particularly.

Here, every female—the wife, the mother—the one either budding into womanhood, or the one in the decline of years, in whom nature contemplates an important change—can discover the causes, symptoms, and the most efficient remedies and most certain mode of cure, in every complaint to which her sex is subject.

The revelations contained in its pages have proved a blessing to thousands, as the innumerable letters received by the author (which he is permitted by the writers to publish) will attest.

SICKLY AND UNHAPPY WIVES.

Extract of a Letter from a Gentleman in Dayton, O.

"DAYTON, May 1, 1847.

"DR. A. M. MAURICEAU—My Dear Sir: 'The Married Woman's Private Medical Companion,' for which I enclosed one dollar to your address, came safely to hand. I would not have troubled you with these few lines, but that I am impelled by a sense of gratitude, for myself and wife, to give utterance to our sincere and heartfelt emotions.

"My wife has been perceptibly sinking for some three years or more, in consequence of her great anguish and suffering some months before and during confinement; every successive one more and more debilitated and prostrated her, putting her life in imminent danger, and which was, on the last occasion, despaired of. I supposed that this state of things was inevitable, and resigned myself to meet the worst. At this time (now about two months) I heard your book highly spoken of, as containing some matters reaching my case. On its receipt and perusal, I can not express to you the relief it afforded my distressed mind, and the joy its pages imparted to my wife, on learning that the great discovery of M. M. Desomeaux provided a remedy. It opened a prospect to me which I little conceived was possible. No pecuniary consideration can ever repay the obligations I am under to you for having been the means of imparting to us the matters contained in 'The Married Woman's Private Medical Companion.' But for this, one another year would have passed over my head, in all human probability my wife would have been in her grave, and my children left motherless."

Extract from a Letter.

Competence and Health.

"LANCASTER, PA., Oct. 24, 1847.

"MY DEAR SIR: I know you will have the kindness to bear with me in encroaching upon your time, while I acknowledge (in behalf of myself and wife) the obligations we feel ourselves under to you in having made known certain matters, contained in your most invaluable 'Married Woman's Private Medical Companion.' It has been worth its weight in gold to me. If I express myself rather warmly, you will see that I can not do so too warmly, when I inform you of the extent to which I have, through it, been benefited. I will state my situation when I obtained your book through the merest curiosity. I look upon it as one of the most fortunate events of my life. I had been married some ten years, and was the father of seven children. I was long struggling unconsciously, to the end that I might gain a moderate competency, but the results of my utmost exertions at the end left me about where I was at the beginning of each year: and that only, with the most stinted economy, sufficing with barely the necessaries of life. Finally, this constant effort was beginning to have its effect upon my health: I felt less capable to endure its continuance, while I felt the necessity of perseverance.

"This constant, unceasing struggle on my part was imperative, in consequence of the prostrated condition of my wife (with occasional intermission) for six years, much of the time confined to her bed, and of course incapable of taking the charge and management of household affairs. Her condition arose from causes of which I was ignorant. Oh! what would I have given had I the six years to live over again! What would my wife have given to have been spared the long days and still longer nights prostrate on a bed of sickness!—all of which would have been avoided, had I then seen a copy of 'THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION.'"

From a Physician.

DANGEROUS DELIVERIES,
OBSTRUCTIONS, IRREGULARITIES, &C

How many are suffering from obstruction or irregularities peculiar to the female system, which undermine their health, the effects of which they are ignorant, and for which their delicacy forbids seeking medical advice! How many suffer from prolapsus uteri (falling of the womb), or from fluor-albus (weakness, debility, &c., &c.)! How many are in constant agony for many months preceding confinement! How many have difficult if not dangerous deliveries, and whose lives are jeoparded during such time, will find in its pages the means of prevention, amelioration, and relief!

Extract from a Letter.

To those just Married.—"Had I known!"

"PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 29, 1847.

"DR. A. M. MAURICEAU: Had I known of the important matters treated of in 'The Married Woman's Private Medical Companion' some years ago, how much misery I might have escaped! I have suffered years from causes which you point out in your book, without knowing what to do. I obtained a copy, and found my case treated of. I trust every female will avail herself of the information contained in its pages."

Letters are daily received of this character, unnecessary to present.

To those yet unmarried, but contemplating marriage, or perhaps hesitating as to the propriety of incurring the responsibilities attendant upon it, the importance of being possessed of the revelations contained in these pages, so intimately involving their future happiness, can not be appreciated.

It is, of course, impracticable to convey more fully the various subjects treated of, as they are of a nature strictly intended for the married, or those contemplating marriage; neither is it necessary, since it is every one's duty to become possessed of knowledges whereby the sufferings to which a wife, a mother, or a sister, may be subject, can be obviated.

☞ Copies will be sent by Mail free of Postage to the Purchaser.

Take Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given to all the subscribers of stock, and all others interested in making the Fort Wayne & Goshen Turnpike, or Plank Road, over the bad road in Allen, Whitley, and Noble counties, are respectfully solicited and requested to subscribe and pay in to the Treasurer of said company, within sixty days from this date, 10 per cent. CASH, on all stock heretofore subscribed, or to be hereafter subscribed, whether in money, labor, materials, or otherwise; and special subscriptions in money are respectfully solicited to build a steam saw mill, five miles from this place, on Peter Carrigar's premises, on said road, and the Board of Directors have appointed myself, and others, a committee to contract for the building of said mill, and to permanently locate said road to the Whitley county line, which work has as yet been delayed for the want of funds If the money to build the mill can be raised, my word for it the road will be speedily commenced and made in this county, and that done, the other part will soon be made, and, instead of having to wallow and roll in mud and mire, the public can travel with comfort and pleasure. I therefore hope that all concerned and interested will lend a helping hand for so desirable an object.

Notice is also hereby given to the stockholders of said Fort Wayne & Goshen Turnpike or Plank Road Company, that an election will be held at the house of David Wolf, in Whitley county, on the first Tuesday in December next, agreeable to law, of nine directors for said company, for the ensuing.

The Directors of said Company are hereby notified that a meeting will be held at the house of D. Wolf, on Friday, the 11th day of October, at 10 o'clock A. M., to transact business for said company; also, those who have subscription books in their possession are respectfully requested to use every exertion in their power to procure all the cash and other subscriptions, and report to said meeting.

VALUABLE

Mill Property for Sale.

THE undersigned offers for sale his Mill Property situate on the Elkhart River, in Noble County, Indiana, 40 miles north west from Fort Wayne and the Wabase and Erie Canal.—The property is now improved with a SAW-MILL, and Head Gates for GRIST and other MILLS. The Dam is one of the best in the country, and has been built only two years, but during that time has withstood without the slightest injury an usual freshets that caused more or less damage to other dams on the river. The supply of water is unfailing, and sufficient with the head of 7½ feet to drive 4 run of 4½ feet stones, Saw Mill and Woollen Mill at all times, and during most of the year almost any amount of machinery could be propelled.

The Saw Mill has recently been put in first rate order, and is considered one of the best in the west. Logs in any quantity of the best kind, such as Poplar, Black Walnut, Ash, Oak, and Cherry, can always be obtained.

The property is situate in the midst of a thickly settled country, where mills are much needed and water power scarce, thereby insuring to the owner a monopoly of the milling business of the country, if well managed.

In connection with the mill and water power, will be sold

160 ACRES OF LAND

on which the mill is situated, together with Timber got out for the erection of a Flouring Mill.

A NOVELTY IN THE TRADE!

Foreign and Domestic Dry Goods,

AND READY MADE CLOTHING

AT WHOLESALE, BY THE SAME HOUSE!

THE WEEDY, MOULTON & PLIMPTON, Importers and Jobbers, 47 Broadway, New York, are now receiving from Europe an extensive assortment of FOREIGN DRY GOODS, which they offer for sale, on Credit, or for Cash, by the piece or package; also, a very extensive assortment of DOMESTIC DRY GOODS, to which they invite the attention of Merchants, upon the same terms.

The stock of READY MADE CLOTHING is opened in the second story of our extensive warehouse, and is under the direction and control of our associates in this department, under the firm of DAVENPORT & GARDNER, who are practical Tailors, and have had a long experience in this branch.

Our Stock of Dry Goods and Ready Made Clothing is unrivalled for the extent of the assortment, and cheapness and style of the fabrics, which is designed for the West and Southwestern trade.

SCROFULA

If thousands of Cures of Scrofula, Cancers, Syphilis, and other impure diseases of the Blood—and if the VERY SMALL QUANTITY which was used of a Medicine to effect Cures of such Diseases, be any proof of the purifying medical power in the Medicine which has subdued and conquered such Diseases—then there is unquestionable evidence that—is such a Medicine, in every respect; and there is abundant proof, in great cures effected, that ONE BOTTLE of it contains more purifying, healing virtue, and medical power, than there is contained in Four Bottles of any sarsaparilla, or any other medicine that has ever been offered for sale. There is undoubted proof in our pamphlets, that by the use of this great Indian Purifier, they that were DYING yet LIVE—they that were LAME and CRIPPLED can now WALK—they that were SICK, SCROFULOUS, and otherwise diseased, have been HEALED and CURED.

BRANT'S INDIAN PURIFYING EXTRACT

Hundreds—Thousands—

who have used BRANT'S PURIFIER, after having used and tested ALL the sarsaparillas and other medicines recommended to cure blood diseases, have decided that—

Brant's is the Cheapest,

because One Bottle of it has more medical, curative matter in it, and, in consequence, cures more disease in much less time, than one bottle of any other medicine.

If, then, One Bottle of BRANT'S PURIFIER will cure FOUR TIMES more disease than one bottle of sarsaparilla—"BRANT'S PURIFIER" would be as cheap at four dollars a bottle, as sarsaparilla at one dollar. But BRANT'S PURIFIER is sold for only ONE DOLLAR a bottle: and as a bottle of it has cured, and is capable of curing, Four Times as much disease as one bottle of sarsaparilla, therefore, sarsaparilla, in consequence of its less power and less medical efficacy, should be sold at no more than Twenty-Five Cents per bottle, to be as cheap as the PURIFIER at One Dollar.

One Dollar's Worth!

How much CANCER—how much SYPHILIS—how much SCROFULA—will One Dollar's worth of Brant's PURIFYER cure? Read the following statement, which is a specimen of its power.

CANCEROUS SCROFULA!

This is the case of a Dying man who yet lives. He was cured of a worse case of Scrofula, by only Twelve Bottles of Brant's Purifier, than ever was cured by the use of Twelve Gallons of the best sarsaparilla that was ever made. Sarsaparilla has not sufficient medical power to effect the cure of such a revoltingly hopeless case.

Mr. J. B. HASKIN, of Rome, Oneida Co., N. Y., had Scrofula four years—was confined to his bed the last year—he was so much diseased and debilitated as to be unable to raise his hand to his head. He had the best medical advice—had used all of the best sarsaparillas to no good effect—got worse and worse, and was considered to be in a Dying State, and could not live twenty-four hours longer, when he commenced using BRANT'S PURIFIER. His neck was eaten nearly off, from ear to ear—a hole was eaten through his windpipe, under his chin, so that he breathed through the hole—his ear was so eaten around that it could be lifted up out of its place, it only holding by a small piece—the use of one arm was destroyed by two Ulcers—an Ulcer under the arm, as large as a man's hand, had nearly eaten through his side into his body. Thus he was afflicted with Twenty such putrid, acrid, offensive Ulcers, on various parts of his person. For further and full particulars, see our Pamphlets.

Doct. THOMAS WILLIAMS, one of the most skillful physicians of Rome, was called to see Haskin the day before he commenced using Brant's Purifier. Doct. W. examined him, and then told him that all the medicines in the world could not cure him—that his case was Worse than Hopeless!

Now hear Mr. HASKIN'S statement of cure. He said: My wife procured one bottle of BRANT'S PURIFYING EXTRACT—THAT BOTTLE enabled me to get off my bed—the SECOND bottle enabled me to get out of the house—the THIRD enabled me to walk two miles, and when I had finished using Nine Bottles, SEVENTEEN out of twenty Ulcers had HEALED up, and three bottles more effected a PERFECT CURE and restored me to good health.

FOURTEEN WITNESSES.

The above facts are certified to by DOCT. T. WILLIAMS, Mr. G. R. BROWN, of West Rome Hotel, Messrs. BISSELL & LEONARD, Druggists, and ELEVEN other respectable witnesses at Rome.

CANCERS CURED.

Mr. O. B. KINNEY, merchant, Clinton, Oneida county, N. Y., informed us that a cancer-doctor in said county was effecting wonderful cures of CANCERS through the efficacy of BRANT'S PURIFYING EXTRACT. A cancer-doctor in Greene county, N. Y., is also using said PURIFIER. Mr. A. B. SETTLE, druggist, at Canajoharie, Montgomery county, N. Y., has informed us of an important cure of a CANCER of long standing, which was effected on an aged lady of that place. If, therefore, this PURIFIER cures Cancer, by its purifying, healing power, what impure disease of the blood can it not cure? Seven years' experience and triumph says there are none but what it will cure.

FEVER-SORE CURED.

The Rev. RICHARD DUNNING, Pastor of the Presbyterian church, Adams Basin, Monroe county, N. Y., wrote to us: "I have just received a letter from Mr. CHANEY DENNIS, relative to the cure of his Fever-sore. You may depend on what it states, for he is a Christian man and an elder in the church. Some years since he had to have one of his legs cut off, to save his life, in consequence of a Fever-sore. The other leg being now affected, and about to be amputated, I recommended BRANT'S MEDICINE. Read the result. He says: I have used only THREE BOTTLES OF BRANT'S MEDICINE. I placed ALL HOPE from your recommendation, in that Medicine, and I can now say that, with the blessing of God, it has effected a cure of my leg." See Pamphlets for full particulars.

LIVER-COMPLAINT!

Dr. NATHAN HUBBARD, of Stamford, Conn., one of the oldest and most respectable physicians, was afflicted with Liver-Complaint many years, and was perfectly cured by using BRANT'S PURIFYING EXTRACT. We could name hundreds of other cases, also cured.

FEMALE WEAKNESSES AND COMPLAINTS.

No remedy offered to the public has ever been half as certain and effectual in restoring ALL the incidental weaknesses and irregularities of the sex, as BRANT'S PULMONARY BALSAM. It makes no difference whether the derangement be suppression, excess, or other weakness—it REGULATES ALL, by strengthening the SYSTEM, equalizing the CIRCULATION, and soothing and allaying NERVOUS IRRITABILITY. ☞ See pamphlets.

CHANGE OF LIFE,

from the girl to the woman, and the woman at middle age—the one case is accelerated, and the other so gradually suppressed, as to prevent any of the fatal diseases that frequently arise in consequence of such change.

Dyspepsia—Sour Stomach!

"ATTICA, Genesee Co., February 1, 1846.

"M. T. WALLACE & CO.—Gentlemen: I was, for more than a year, afflicted with a disease of the stomach. I could not eat any fat or greasy substances without causing great pain, sickness, and vomiting, and was continually afflicted with a sour stomach. I, as an experiment, tried one bottle of BRANT'S MEDICINE, which, to my utter disappointment, eased and relieved the usual pain after eating. I therefore used a second bottle, which has completely cured the disease. I am now well and hearty, and can eat almost anything without being pained, or the stomach becoming sour.

Yours respectfully, T. S. WILCOX."

Mr. Wilcox is a respectable merchant of Attica.

NURSING SORE MOUTH, LUCORRHŒA, &c.

"BYRON, GENESEE Co., N. Y., Oct. 16, 1847.

"MESSRS. M. T. WALLACE & CO.: Some time last winter my wife became so debilitated from the effects of Leucorrhœa and Nursing Sore Mouth, that she could not lift her child or perform any household labor. Her medical treatment was varied according to the advice and prescriptions of the most eminent physicians, until our bill was exhausted in useless efforts. She became so very a skeleton, that at the time she commenced using Brant's Medicine she weighed no more than eighty-five pounds; but by the time she had taken four bottles, she became perfectly well. The cure is so perfect, that she is now enabled to do all necessary household work, and gained thirty pounds of flesh in four weeks.

"Yours truly, C. B. GALENTINE."

The reader will observe that Mr. GALENTINE says "our child." He, we are informed by Z. S. TERRY, Esq., of the same place, has studied medicine.

MERCURIAL DISEASES.

BRANT'S PURIFYING EXTRACT is a perfect and thorough eradicator of all the effects of MERCURY, or any of the various preparations of CALOMEL or MERCURY, from the system: and it restores the blood, muscles, and all the parts diseased, to their original, HEALTHY STATE.

GENERAL DEBILITY OF THE SYSTEM!

Mr. A. HOLTSTANDER, merchant, Oberlin, Lorrain Co., Ohio, wrote, December 19, 1848, and after having stated how like a charm the PULMONARY BALSAM had effected the cure of his wife's consumptive cough, said: "I have personally used BRANT'S PURIFYING EXTRACT, for general debility of my system, and I have no hesitation in saying that it is the best medicine to RESTORE and INVIGORATE THE SYSTEM that I have ever used. In every instance where we have sold BRANT'S MEDICINES, they have proved their efficacy, and given the BEST SATISFACTION."

SALT RHEUM, &c.

and all impure chronic diseases of the BLOOD, are always cured by BRANT'S EXTRACT.

Valuable Tavern for Sale

At Huntertown, 12 Miles North of Fort Wayne, on the Plank Road.

WILL be offered for sale until 1st of May next, after which, if not sold, will be RENTED. This property is an excellent stand or entertainment, with a large and convenient house, and stabling for about 50 horses, with a good young orchard, and about seventy acres of land. There is perhaps no more desirable or profitable stand for business in Northern Indiana. It affords a fine opportunity to any one who wants a good location for the above business.

THE "GREAT" Indiana Land Agency

OUR DOMAIN!

THE undersigned has been appointed an agent to sell all of the lands in Northern Indiana owned by the "Knightstown and Shelbyville Rail Road Company."

As this company is successfully operating on the High pressure system on their road, they have resolved to put their lands on the Low; and have authorised sales to be made at Two Dollars per acre, on five years' credit; thus giving every one a rare chance to own a farm.

Emigrants can be accommodated with four or five sections in one locality if desired.

The undersigned has also on sale large tracts of other lands in this, and adjoining counties; and is giving better bargains, and more of them, than is generally known; as he is entirely too modest to puff himself, and is not disposed to pay any one to do it for him.

THE INDIANA STATESMAN.

THE undersigned will commence the publication of a Weekly Newspaper with the above title, at Indianapolis, Ind., on or about the 4th day of September, 1850.

The paper will be devoted chiefly to the Domestic and Foreign intelligence of the day, Agriculture and the Arts, while its Miscellaneous department will be filled with the choicest cullings from the works of eminent writers. Our aim will be to make it a welcome visiter to the Counting-room, the social circle and the quiet fireside.

Politically, the STATESMAN will sustain the principles, organization and usages of the democratic party, endeavoring by all honorable means to promote its harmony, unity, and success.

A weekly summary of Congressional and Legislative reports and of the proceedings of the Constitutional Convention, will be given during the sittings of these respective bodies.

Our experience in the Newspaper publishing business leads us to the belief that we can make such a sheet as will meet the wants of a large portion of the reading public; but its usefulness necessarily great

TRICKS OF QUACKS.

LET EVERYBODY READ THIS CAREFULLY.—There is a Sarsaparilla for sale in the different towns called S. P. Townsend's Sarsaparilla. It is advertised as the GENUINE, REAL, GENUINE, &c., all that. This Townsend is an old man and never was; but was formerly a worker on currycombs, cards, and the like—yet he assumes the title of Doctor for the purpose of gaining credit for what he issues. He says "he has attended two medical schools, and practiced for fifteen years!!" Now the truth is, he never practiced medicine a day in his life! Such willful, wicked misrepresentation looks bad to the discerning part of community. I tell it to you honestly, for I do not wish to deceive you in these matters. Townsend is a mere quack, as an inducement to embark in the business. These men have been moulding and blending one in all possible forms, in order to impress the public with the belief that the Old Doctor's Sarsaparilla was not the genuine, original Sarsaparilla, made from the Old Doctor's Original Receipt. Thos. S. P. Townsend says I have sold the sale of my name for $2 a week. I tell you he has sold it he will produce one similar authority proof of this. His statements of Thompson, Skillman & Co., are nothing but a tissue of falsehoods, simply made to injure the public, and keep the truth down in regard to his scurvy, fermenting compound. Time to to caution the public to purchase none but Old Dr. JACOB TOWNSEND'S Sarsaparilla, having on the Old Doctor's likeness, his family Coat of Arms, and his manufactories on the Coat of Arms.

"Georgia Office, 102 Nassau-street, N. Y. City.
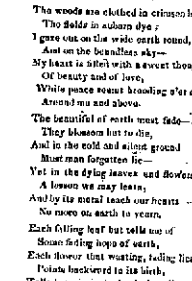
JACOB TOWNSEND.



Old Dr. Jacob Townsend,
THE ORIGINAL DISCOVERER OF THE
Genuine Townsend Sarsaparilla.

Old Dr. Townsend is now about 70 years of age, and has long been known as the AUTHOR AND DISCOVERER of the GENUINE ORIGINAL "TOWNSEND SARSAPARILLA." During the war he was controlled to limit its manufacture, by which means it has been kept out to market, and the sales circumscribed to those only who had proved its worth, and knew where to get it. It is now the case of many, nevertheless, as those persons who have been healed of sore diseases, and saved from death, proclaimed its wonderful

HEALING POWER.

THE GRAND AND UNEQUALLED PREPARATION! manufactured on the largest scale, and is called for throughout the length and breadth of the land, especially as it is proven scientific principles of decomposition or deterioration.

Unlike young S. P. Townsend's, it improves with age, and never changes but by years; because it is prepared on scientific principles by a scientific man. The highest knowledge of Chemistry, and the latest discoveries of the age, have all been brought into requisition in the manufacture of the Old Dr's Sarsaparilla. The Sarsaparilla root, first well known to medical men, contains many medicinal properties, and some properties which are injurious to the system. Some of the properties of Sarsaparilla are so volatile that they entirely evaporate and are lost in the preparation. Others are not preserved by a scientific process, known only to the Old Doctor himself, and which gives it all its value.

Any person can boil or steep it, and still they get a dark colored liquid, which is mere Slop, for the scraping matter in the root thus from anything else; they can thus obtain the essential or vapid liquid, mixed in with much mucilaginous and thus call it "SARSAPARILLA SYRUP" or SYRUP" But such is not the article known as the

GENUINE OLD DR. JACOB TOWNSEND'S SARSAPARILLA.

This is so prepared that all the medicinal properties of the Sarsaparilla root are here removed, everything capable of becoming acid or fermentation is extracted and rejected, then every particle of medicinal virtue is preserved in pure and concentrated form; and thus it is rendered incapable of losing any of its valuable and healing properties. Prepared in this way, it is water when it is taken, and thus it is doing wonders in the cure of

CONSUMPTION, DYSPEPSIA, and LIVER COMPLAINT, and in ERYSIPELAS, ERUPTIONS, BLAZ. FLUSH, CONFIDENCE, all CUTANEOUS ERUPTIONS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES and all diseases arising from

IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

It possesses a marvellous efficacy in all complaints arising from Indigestion, from Acidity of the Stomach, from unusual Costiveness, in cases of Fever and Ague, in the least palpitation of the heart, cold feet and hands, cold chills and hot flushes over the body. It has not its equal in Colds and Coughs; and pulmonary complaints of every description, acute per*spiration*, relaxing strictures of the lungs, throat and every other part.

But in nothing is its excellence more manifestly seen and acknowledged than in all kinds and cases of

FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

It works wonders in cases of Fever and Ague, or Whites Falling of the Womb, Obstructed, Stagnated, or Painful Menses, Irregularity of the menstrual periods, and the like—and in effectual in curing all the forms of Kidney Diseases.

By removing obstructions, and regulating the general system, it gives tone and strength to the whole body, and thus cures all forms of and thus prevents or relieves a great variety of other maladies, as Spasms, Convulsions, Epileptic Fits, Fits! Fits! Dancing, Sympathy, Epileptic Fits, Convulsions, &c.

Nervous Diseases and Debility,

It cleanses the blood, excites the liver to healthy action, tones the stomach, and thus gives vigor to the nerves and bowels of torpor and constipation, allays inflammation, purifies the skin, equalizes the circulation of the blood, promotes gentle warmth equally all over the body, and the insensible perspiration; relaxes or strengthens and regulates, removes all obstructions, and invigorates the entire nervous system. In fact this does

The Medicine you pre-eminently need!

But can any of these things be said of S. P. Townsend's infantile stuff? Let the people answer. It should not be

COMPARED WITH THE OLD DR'S.

because of one GRAND FACT, that the one is INCAPABLE OF DETERIORATION, and the other while the other DOES: souring, fermenting, and bloating the bottles containing it into fragments; the sour, acid liquid corroding and flaming with such force as to make the horrible compound be poisonous in the system!—What! put acid into a system already diseased with acid? What causes Dyspepsia but acid? Does not all know that when food sours in our stomachs, what unskilled it produces?—Intolerance, heartburn, palpitation of the heart, liver complaint, diarrhœa, and sometimes cholera morbus, consumption of the blood! What is Sarsaparilla but an acid humor in the body? What produces all the humors which bring on Erysipelas and the Skin, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Ulcers, Boils, Swellings, Fever Sores, and all obstinate internal and external? It is nothing under heaven but an acid substance, which sours, and thins the blood, and makes it weak, more or less. What causes Rheumatism but a sour and acid fluid which insinuates itself between the joints and sides of bones, forming and inflaming the delicate tissues upon which it acts? So of nervous diseases, of impurity of the blood, of deranged circulation, and nearly all the ailments which afflict human nature.

NEVER SPOILS.

Now is it not horrible to make and sell, and injudicely sweet to use this and yet he would fain have it considered that Old Dr. Jacob Townsend's Genuine Sarsaparilla, is an IMITATION of his inferior preparation!!

However lawful that we should deal on an article which would injure the most distant resemblance to S. P. Townsend's article!

We wish it understood, because it is the absolute truth, that S. P. Townsend's article and the Old Dr. Jacob Townsend's Sarsaparilla are heaven-wide apart, and infinitely distinct, story that they are unlike in every particular, having no one single thing in common.

As S. P. Townsend is no doctor, and never was, is no chemist, no pharmaceutist—knows no more of medicine or disease than any other unlearned man—he could not understand what, what guarantee can the public have that they are receiving a genuine scientific medicine, containing all the virtues of the article used in preparing it, and which are incapable of changes which might render them the AGENTS of disease instead of health?

But what else should be expected from one who knows nothing comparatively of medicine or disease? It requires a person of some experience to cook and serve up even a common dinner well. How much more important is it that the person who manufactures medicine designed for should know well the medical properties of plants, the best manner of securing and concentrating their healing virtues, also an extensive knowledge of the various diseases which affect the human system, and how to adapt remedies to those diseases!

It is to arrest these ills upon the unfortunate, to pour balm into wounded humanity, to kindle hope in the despairing bosom, to restore health, and bloom, and vigor into the crushed and broken, and to banish infirmity and woe that OLD DR. JACOB TOWNSEND'S SARSAPARILLA WAS FOUND! the opportunity and means to bring it!

OCTOBER.

BY J. R. PARRISH.

The mild October month is come
In all her pomp again;
I trace her in the varied tints
Of forest, field and plain;
I hear her and and solemn winds
Sigh through the leafy trees,
I hear the dirge of summer flowers
Borne on the passing breeze.

Month of my heart! I ever love
To fly thy dominion to be;
I love thy blue and misty skies—
Thy quiet days to see;
How gladly from the crowd I turn
My course to wood and wild,
To breathe the life of autumn air,
As when a sinless child.

The woods are clothed in crimson hue,
The fields in auburn dye;
I gave out on the wide earth round,
And on the boundless sky—
My heart is filled with a sweet thought
Of beauty and of love,
While peace comes stealing o'er each scene
Around me and above.

The beautiful of earth must fade—
They blossom but to die,
And in the cold and silent ground
Must man forgotten lie—
Yet in the dying leaves and flowers,
A lesson we may learn;
And by its moral teach our hearts
No more on earth to yearn.

Each falling leaf but tells me of
Some fading hope of earth,
Each flower that wasting, fading lies,
Points backward to its birth,
Tells how, in spring's elysian clime,
It lived on balmy dew,
And how, through summer's sun and rain,
Its tender blossoms grew.

And as I mark its transient course
From earth to earth again—
How in the summer days it lived,
How died in autumn's reign—
I think of life—its changing day,
Of sunshine and of gloom,
How soon earth's proudest noblest forms,
Sink in the silent tomb.

GLASGOW, KY., Oct. 1850.

THE CURE FOR AN INVALID.

"My! Oh my," soliloquized Charles Seaton; "it is too bad. I never come home but my wife is sick and complaining; she won't talk, read or make the least exertion for my comfort. I am obliged to seek pleasure and enjoyment any where but at my own fireside; and this is only the second year of married life, and if it continues thus, I wonder where it will end? In wishing myself a bachelor I expect, but let me see—I have it now and I think it will cure her. However, there is no harm in the experiment. For she is forever lying on the sofa, or sick in bed—yet she looks remarkably well for one that eats nothing. I generally take my meals alone as she is too ill to come to the table, and I see she is not coming down to tea; so I will not go to her room this time to enquire after her health."

After tea, Charles took a cigar and walked through the hall, puffing, with all his might, volumes of smoke to keep his courage to the sticking point. He went out in search of company to spend the evening with; but feeling rather uncomfortable, as it was the first time he had shown his wife so little attention, and being one who was fondly in favor of domestic happiness, he concluded to return home and not enter those dens which have ruined so many. He reentered the house, silently, and seated himself in the back-parlor, for he distinctly heard his wife's voice in the dining-room.

She had come down as soon as she learned her husband had left the house so unceremoniously. Entering the dining room, wrapped in a large shawl, she seated herself at the table in an indolent and careless manner, and half audibly murmured to the maid of the work:

"Has Charles gone out without coming to see how I was? And oh, my head aches wretchedly, and I feel so miserable!" she continued, pluming her hands to her temples.

"A little tea and toast will help you, ma'am," said the serving-maid.

"Well, I think I will try a little," drawled out Mrs. Seaton.

A large slice was quickly prepared for her; and Betty noticed that she relished it exceedingly; so she thought she might as well tempt her appetite a little by descanting upon the delicacies that were set before her.

"Have a bit of chicken," said Betty, "for it will give you such a lot of natural strength—it is done brown, and not a bit too rich for you, neither, ma'am."

"I will take a small piece," answered the invalid, and a slice of tongue with cranberry sauce, and you may hand me a biscuit, for they look tempting, and my appetite seems to increase. I will have some chicken salad, and my appetite seems to increase. I will have some chicken salad, and another cup of tea, Betty, and some grated cheese, and a soda-cracker.

The poor servant girl began to look aghast as she feared the table would soon be cleared and nothing left for herself.

"Will madam have anything else?" she inquired with a grave look.

"Yes—I believe I will try a preserved peach with cream, and a slice of jelly-cake! Dear me," she continued as she heard the door close, "I feel very ill, and I think I shall be obliged to lie down!" She tottered into the room, and sinking upon the sofa as she observed her husband, who had opened and closed the door as if he had just entered.

"Well, Helen," he said, "are you better this evening?"

"Oh, no, Charles," she answered faintly, "come and fix the pillow under my head and spread the shawl over me—the least exertion almost kills me."

"Laziness, and a disposition to affect the invalid," thought Charles, as he was in search of a book to while away the hours. Mrs. Seaton's cousin this evening?" inquired Kate, while bending over the invalid.

"I continue to grow worse," she answered with her eyes closed.

"Her appetite has failed," replied Mr. Seaton, with mocking seriousness, "and medical skill availeth nothing. I fear she will never recover."

A shriek in pain announced that the bait took well, as she was very anxious to impress her husband with the idea that her frail, delicate health was fast giving away; and she was exceedingly fond of being petted.

"Kate," said Charles, "favor us with some music; you are such an excellent performer, and it has been so long since I have heard good music. Helen never plays now, and I often wonder how she could give it up, for she used to play a great deal, and always tried to please and fascinate me before we were married, and I wish she would do so now!"

"Charles, Charles!" she cried, "you know I have been too ill."

"I beg your pardon. Helen, you are ill so much, that I sometimes forget it."

Kate, fearing a scene, touched the keys of the piano with exquisite grace; and her sweet voice warbled the song of the "Bachelor's Dream." And many beautiful songs were sung, while Charles bent over her, seemingly so delighted that he forgot the presence of his invalid wife. When Kate rose from the instrument, he whispered:

"Kate, you must accede to what I say, as I am about to try an effectual cure for my wife's illness."

Kate bowed her head with a mischievous smile, and her beautiful eyes danced with delight at the idea of such rich sport—for Kate was a fun-loving girl—all life and animation with a heart that delighted in the happiness of others. She had an intuitive knowledge of Charles's unhappiness.

"My cousin sleeps," said Kate, as she seated herself.

"We will let her rest, as sleep is the only remedy for one so ill," replied Mr. Seaton, drawing his chair very near Kate, and taking her hand, he remarked, "what a diminutive and delicately formed hand you have—it is even more beautiful than Helen's!" and gazing upon her as if enraptured with loveliness, he continued, "you are the most bewitching beauty I ever saw. Why did I not know you before I was married?"

"Cease, Charles," said Kate imploringly.

"And won't you remain single for my sake, dear girl? as you know Helen can't last much longer in the present state, and you would make such a loving wife, and use every exertion to insure my happiness. Say, Kate, will you wait for me?"

"Shame, shame, Charles," cried Kate; "how can you say so before Helen is dead, but I suppose I may as well promise, as I have no doubt you are my beau ideal of perfection," continued Kate, with a smile of merriment.

"Dear, noble girl," answered Charles. "In a few months and we——"

"Ungrateful, inconstant creature, dare you insult your wife thus?" wildly exclaimed Helen, as she flew between them like a young tigress, and, "Oh, can it be possible," she continued, bursting into a passion of tears, "that I have outlived your affection, and you have already began to lay out plans for one to supplant me? But I will see that you do not get rid of me so easily. No—I will live and frustrate your unreasonable plans. And remember, Charles, I am not always asleep when my eyes are closed."

"Nor ill when you complain," answered he with a mischievous smile.

"Unkind, cruel Charles, to care so little for my illness. What has come over you to change you so suddenly?" And turning to Kate, she exclaimed, with a frowning brow and eyes flooded with tears, "foolish, misguided girl, what have you done? But you shall pay for this."

"Cease, Helen," cried Charles, "do not get into such a passion—you will kill yourself immediately; pray be calm; you are so weak from continued suffering, that you will injure yourself."

"Weak indeed!" she exclaimed. "I am not at all ill, your heartless conduct has quite restored my health."

Kate was about to explain the whole affair when Charles turned upon her a beseeching look to desist. Mrs. Seaton called the servant boy to wait upon Kate home, as she would not permit her husband to go. Poor Kate! she began to think she had to pay rather dear for a joke. However, she concluded to let it rest until Charles saw fit to explain it to Helen.

The cure took amazingly. Mrs. Seaton was well enough to come down to breakfast with an improved appetite. She pouted, yet that was more agreeable in Charles than her continual complaints, and when he returned home in the evening she was practising her music, and a work-table sat in the center of the room, upon which stood a lighted lamp and all the et cetcras of a lady's industry, together with the evening paper.

At tea she conversed with her usual vivacity, and the evening passed more pleasantly than any he had spent at home for several months. She continued to improve each succeeding day, her health recovered rapidly, and all drugs were banished from her room.

Charles explained the farce, and sometime afterwards he whispered lovingly in her ear: "Helen, dear, shall I bring Kate to spend the evening with us?"

"No, no," she answered, "I will be equally agreeable as Kate. Dear, good Kate, she spent the day with me yesterday, and I owe her much for the valuable lesson she taught me. And you say, dear Charles, if I had not changed, you would have been driven to seek company among those dissolute beings who frequent the halls of Bacchus?"

Charles made no reply, for his risible faculties were in full play while he thought how successful he had been in procuring—the cure for an invalid.

LIST OF ACTS

The South and the Union.—Accounts from the south confirm us in the belief that the great mass of the people are firm in their devotion to the Union. All the clamor we have heard about dissolution has been made by a few mad-cap incendiaries, whose monomania on the subject of slavery has led them far beyond what the public sentiment in their respective states will sustain them in.

Enthusiatic Union meetings have been held in Monroe and Troute counties, Georgia, at both of which resolutions were adopted, declaring that so long as the north fulfils the stipulations of compromise bill, so long will the south abide by them.

The Athens Banner, a democratic journal, says Gov. Towns's proclamation is "but a solemn mummery, under the existing calm of public opinion, after the late adjustment of the slavery question by Congress."

A great Union meeting was held in Macon, Ga., on the 25th ultimo, at which Judge T. G. Holt presided. Among the resolutions adopted was one that the citizens of Bibb county pledge "their time, talents, means, and, if necessary, their lives," in defence of the Union. Similar meetings in various parts of the South are now being held. The Union party is evidently in the ascendant there as elsewhere.

A similar meeting has been held in Mobile. In Jackson, Mississippi, a large and enthusiastic meeting was held, in pursuance of a call signed by 500 of the principal citizens of the vicinity, at which resolutions were adopted, denouncing the Nashville "Convention and all its works;"—thanking Senator Foote for the enlightened and patriotic course he pursued in the late session of Congress;—denouncing the conduct of the Legislature in pledging the state of Mississippi to abide by the decision of the Nashville Convention as "a presumptuous usurpation, wholly unauthorised by the people of the state;"—opposing the adoption of the line of 36 deg. 30 min. as the boundary between slave and free territory, as in direct opposition to the doctrine of non-intervention, which we still maintain as the only true constitutional position;"—opposing the reassembling of the Nashville Convention;—and instructing their Legislators "to oppose all measures tending to a dissolution of the Union."

All accounts from the South agree that the popular discontent is every where subsiding. The people are nauseated with the demagogueism of the agitators, and disposed peaceably to acquiesce in the measures of pacification adopted by Congress. The whole excitement is kept up by a set of desperate political adventurers and fanatics, who seek in the turmoil they hope to create, an opportunity to ride into power and office.

Ohio Election.—The democrats have elected their Governor and Member of the Board of Public Works by some 10 to 15,000 majority. For the Legislature, owing to unfortunate dissensions in some democratic districts, and criminal apathy in others, they have not done so well. The Senate stands—16 democrats, 17 whigs, 3 free soilers; the House—33 whigs, 32 democrats, 8 free soilers.

An U. S. Senator is to elected next winter.

Pennsylvania Redeemed!—Although our returns from the Keystone State are not complete, enough have been received to show that the entire democratic state ticket is elected by an overwhelming majority. The Congressional delegation will stand 14 democrats to 10 whigs—a democratic gain of 6!! the present delegation being 8 democrats to 16 whigs. In the State Senate the democrats will have a majority of one or two; and quite a large majority in the House of Representatives.

The notorious Lewis C. Levin, Native American member of the present Congress, was, we rejoice to say, handsomely defeated by T. B. Florence, democrat.

The Fugitive Slave Law.

This obnoxious bill is creating quite an excitement in many places—especially in New York and New England. It was, in our humble opinion, an impolitic measure, totally uncalled for, and one which, unless speedily repealed, will lead to trouble. It has been a perfect godsend to the abolitionists, in giving them something by which to keep up the agitation on that everlasting slavery topic, which might otherwise have subsided in consequence of the question being adjusted by the passage of the other measures of compromise adopted by the late Congress.

There is something so repugnant to the feelings of citizens of free states in being compelled to aid the southern man-catchers to drag fellow creatures into bondage, that the abolitionists will never want for a subject to keep alive the agitation, as long as the bill remains in force. It is so utterly obnoxious to public sentiment that we do not believe it can ever be enforced without creating excitement and trouble.

We give below a few extracts, showing how the bill is viewed in the free states:

Boston, Oct. 15.

A large meeting of the opponents of the Fugitive Slave law, was held at Faneuil Hall last night. The Hon. Frances Adams presided. A letter from the Hon. Josiah Quincy, sen. was read, regretting his unavoidable absence.

Frederick Douglass, and many others addressed the meeting—the law was declared unconstitutional, and a large committee of vigilance was appointed.

Meeting of the Colored Population of Chicago.—The colored citizens of Chicago held a meeting on Tuesday evening, to express themselves against the Fugitive Slave law lately passed. Speeches were made, and resolutions significant of the sentiment of the assemblage, passed. The Journal says: "there is a strong and deep feeling among the colored population in this city, numbering not less than five hundred persons, to resist to the last, every effort made to bear back to bondage, any one of their number—to rally and defend each other, at the risk of imprisonment, fine, limb, and life itself.

The Editor of the Detroit Tribune passing through Sandusky City, a few days since, writes to his paper that:

"Senator Chase, of this state last night spoke to a large audience in this state on the Fugitive Slave Bill. The excitement here on this question is great. It is said that over 200 negroes have left or passed through this city, within the last two days for Canada. Every train of cars from the south brings numbers of them off for Her Majesty's dominions."

Hovensdale, Oct. 4th.

A great excitement has been created in this community by the appearance of two men from the south, who are after a beautiful mulatto, the wife of a Mr. Evans, and who they say is a runaway slave. If she is discovered, it will be hardly possible for them to take her, the feeling is so strong against them.

Boston, Oct. 5.

A great free soil meeting was held in Lowell last night, at which with shouts of applause, a resolution was passed to call back three fugitive slaves who had fled from that city to Canada, with a pledge that they shall be protected from arrest by the citizens of Lowell.

Oswego, Oct. 1.

The fugitive slave law is causing some excitement here among the colored population, who have organised themselves to resist any attempts upon their liberty.

Plum Apples which we noticed in our last, are of the variety known by the name of Emperor Alexander. They are a splendid fruit, and should be found in every orchard.—We understand Messrs. Rockhill & Tyler have a number of trees of this variety for sale at their nursery in this place.

Dr. Rutherford's Lectures.

The highly interesting course of Physiological Lectures by Dr. Rutherford were brought to a close on Monday evening last. As an act of justice to the lecturer, and information to the citizens of other places he may visit, we feel called upon to state that the lectures have been in the highest degree satisfactory, interesting, and profitable to the crowded audiences who have attended them. As we have, on former occasions, during the progress of the course, spoken in terms of commendation of these lectures, we refrain from saying more at present, and conclude with an extract from an able article on the subject, in the last Times, which fully expresses our views, and, we venture to add, the views of most of those who were fortunate enough to hear Dr. Rutherford.

"As a lecturer, we may safely say he has but few superiors in style of thought or the maturity with which he digested his subjects. Having a perfect command of language and a pleasing ease in delivery, he does not weary his audience by monotony or tritaness.

"He has so far made himself master of the topics of which he speaks, and so constantly, yet gently leads the mind from one truth to another, that it does not become weary however long his lecture may be.

"His lectures embrace a general view of the osseous or bony structure of the human frame; an outline of the muscular or fleshy part of bodies; a view of the circulatory system, embracing the ramifications of the arteries and veins; the manner in which they are supplied with the vital fluid, that the various parts of the system may be invigorated with nourishment which has been prepared by the complicated process of the digestion of the various kinds of food which we have eaten.

"He next treats of the delightful beauties found in the complicated character of the nervous system, and illustrates and explains the apparently mysterious phenomena existing in the relation of body and mind; demonstrating that from the various characters and conformation of these parts and organs, we may form an estimate of the instinctive and intellectual power of man.

"These various topics are treated, in a plain yet beautiful manner; being freed, as far as possible, from technicalities usually found connected with such subjects.

"The subject of Mental Philosophy in his hands seems freed from much of the logical metaphysics with which we usually find it burthened.

"With happy effect he demonstrates that the mind [in its healthy condition] holds supreme command of the various active phenomena, observable in the organism of the human body.

"In the Anatomical and Physiological demonstrations he is correct and clear; making these subjects which are usually counted dry and difficult, comprehensible and pleasing to the most ordinary intellect."

Chance for Printers.—A good, honest, capable, democratic Printer, with a few hundred dollars of capital, can learn of a profitable place of investment, by addressing the Editor of the Franklin Democrat, Brookville, Ind.

Notice.—The establishment of the Lafayette Courier is offered for sale. For location and business it is one of the most desirable in the state. This volume expires on the first of December next, which will be a convenient period for a change. For further information address the office.

The population of Lafayette is stated to be 6,528. That of Logansport 3,205.

The Wheelbarrow Man.—This well know and indefatigable individual, who started on a "tramp" across the plains to California with a wheelbarrow, in which to carry his "plunder," has arrived at Sacramento City in safety. He left his wheelbarrow at Fort Hall, and attached himself to a company, thinking, very correctly, that however easily he might progress on the broad and level prairies, the Sierra Nevada might prove an ugly customer. That man will get rich, if it is possible; mark it. His energy will "put him through."

The New Route.—By the St. Lawrence, the Ogdensburg and Rouse's Point Rail Road, Lake Champlain, northern N. Y. Canal, and the Hudson River is now open, and the Freight Tariff contains some important facts. Flour, for example, can be contracted to New York by this route at 75 cents per bbl. from Toledo. Cargoes of Western produce passing over the Rail Road, flour excepted, coming through the Welland Canal, and destined to the Atlantic Cities will be allowed a discount from the established rates, equal to the tolls charged on the Canal, and freight in quantities of ten tons and upwards, coming from the Atlantic Cities, and destined to the Upper Lakes will be allowed a drawback equal to the tolls charged thereon by the canal.—Toledo Blade.

The Bounty Land Bill will be found on our first page. We give below an admirable circular on the subject, issued by the Secretary of the Interior, by which it will be seen that the administration intends giving every facility to the soldiers in proving their claims, and availing themselves of the bounty of Congress, without being put to unnecessary trouble, or compelled to pay extravagant charges to lawyers or other agents to prepare the requisite papers. We feel a pleasure in having this opportunity of commending the course of an administration to which we are politically opposed; it is one that must meet the approval of all—those who are immediately benefitted, as well as those who wish to see the soldiers receive the full benefit of the liberality shown to them by a grateful country.

We will publish the forms and instructions prepared by the department, in our next.

Official.—The Bounty Land Bill.

Department of the Interior, }
Oct. 3, 1850. }

The Congress of the United States, at its late session, having, in a spirit of justice and liberality, passed an act "granting bounty land to certain officers and soldiers who have been engaged in the military service of the United States" the President has esteemed it no less a privilege than a duty to adopt all the means in his power to give prompt and efficient operation to this beneficent measure.

I deem it proper, therefore, to announce to those entitled to the benefits of this law, that with his sanction, I have caused all the necessary forms and instructions to guide claimants in applying for and obtaining their rights to be prepared, and they are now in the hands of the printer. At the earliest practicable moment copies of these papers will be forwarded to each member of Congress, and to the clerk of the court of every county in the United States.

It will be his purpose to administer the law in such a manner as to make it what Congress designed it to be, a bounty to the soldier, and not to agents and speculators. The forms and the mode of proof have therefore been made as simple as possible, and every facility will be afforded to establish their just demands.—Clerks are now engaged in preparing from the rolls on file, certificates of service, in order that those who have not received discharges, or have accidentally lost them, may not be disappointed in obtaining their just reward.

The policy of this law in all its provisions is to discourage speculation in the claims of soldiers. The act provides "that all sales, mortgages, letters of attorney, and other instruments of writing going to affect the title or claim to any warrant herein before provided for, made or executed prior to the issue, shall be null and void to all intents and purposes whatsoever, nor shall such certificate or warrant, or the land obtained thereby, be in any wise affected by, or charged with, or subject to, the payment of any debt or claim incurred by such officer or soldier prior to the issuing of the patent."

In his judgement the issue contemplated in the body of the above recited clause of the law is the issue of the patent. Consequently, all sales, transfers, assignments, and incumbrances of soldiers' land claims, made before the emanation of the patents, are void, and will be disregarded by the Government. Speculators are therefore admonished that they can acquire no right to by purchase which will be recognized by this Department.

I feel it to be my duty, also, to warn the frank and confiding soldier against the arts and devices of agents, who will seek to exaggerate the difficulties of obtaining the land, in order to enhance their own charges.

The evidence of service exists among the archives of the country. In nine cases out of the only proof required will be the identity of the applicant, or of the marriage and widowhood, or heirship. These are facts readily proven, and therefore the difficulties will in most cases be merely nominal. And to remove even these slight obstacles, and to give more full and complete effect to the munificence of the Government, I beg leave respectfully to recommend to the proper authorities of each county and township, to employ a suitable agent, at the expense of the county, to supervise the preparation of the applications and proofs of claimants. The ignorant and unwary would thus be protected from imposition, the poor soldier from burdens they are not able to bear, and the government from many embarrassments which may result from the awkwardness of incompetent agents.

In conclusion, I desire to say that great care will be used to guard against undue preferences of one class of applicants over others. With this view, at the proper time, a sufficient number of clerks will be employed to issue the certificates with the least possible delay, so that all may have an equal chance of making advantageous locations.

ALEX. H. H. STUART,
Secretary of the Interior.

Proceedings of the Constitutional Convention.

The Convention has not yet made much progress in business. Various propositions have been made in relation to the plan to be adopted for the business of the Convention; and finally the one proposed by Mr. Reed of Monroe was adopted: it provides that a committee of two from each congressional district be appointed to prepare the plan of business. The committee reported 21 different committees, to whom shall be referred all such matters as properly belong to each. The report was adopted, and the committees appointed as will be seen below.

Several amendments to the constitution have been proposed, and laid on the table; but now the necessary committees have been appointed, we trust the business of the convention will be progressed with in good earnest; that no Buncombe resolutions may be entertained; but that the members apply themselves strictly to a faithful discharge of their duty; and finally that they prepare a good constitution, and adjourn with as little delay as practicable.

Monday Morning, Oct. 14, 1850.

The President announced the following standing committees.

1. On the rights and privileges of the inhabitants of the State; 9 members.—Messrs. Owen, Graham, (of M.) Niles, Haddon, Prettyman, Coats, Murray, Chapman, and Berry.

2. On the Legislative Department; 9 members.—Messrs. Bright, Smiley, Clark, (of T.) Schoonover, Walpole, Emerson, Duzan, Beach.

3. On the Executive Department; 9 members.—Messrs. Morrison, (of M.) Stevenson, Beard, Sherrod, Gordon, Wolf, Morgan, Bascom, and Barbour.

4. On State officers, other than Executive and Judiciary; 7 members.—Messrs. Read, (of C.) Moore, Bicknell, Bracken, Farrow, Mowrer, and Frisbie.

Mr. Maguire, moved to take up the rules, which was done.

The rules were then separately read for adoption, and, after some slight amendment, were adopted.

On motion of Mr. Hall the several submitted by him on Wednesday last were taken from the table, and were referred to the appropriate committees.

The report of the select committee in relation to the State Printer, was taken up, but, before any action was had, the Convention adjourned.

Afternoon session.

The Convention met. The report of the select committee declaring that the State printer of the convention, was taken up, an after discussion in favor of concurrence, by Messrs. Biddle, Niles, Holman, Steele, Bascom, Foster, and against it by Messrs. Nave, Howe, and Pettit, it was concurred in.

Mr. Bascom introduced a resolution providing for the election of a Printer to the convention on to-morrow. Laid on the table.

Several resolutions were introduced and appropriately reffered.

The convention adjourned.

Tuesday Oct. 15.

Resolutions offered:

By Mr. Hamilton, as to the expediency of inserting a provision in the constitution, giving to the Legislature power to establish a State Bank and Branches, and also power to grant charters for private Banking, provided stock of the U. S. or of the State of Indiana be deposited as security for the redemption of the paper issued by such private banks, to be lodged with a officer of State, who shall, on receiving the stock, deliver blank paper, countersigned and registered, to an amount not exceeding the par value of the stockholders be held individually liable for the final redemption of such paper as the bank may issue; which was adopted.

By Mr. Bascom, as to the expediency of forever prohibiting the issue of bank paper in this State; adopted.

Mr. Borden offered a resolution to incorporate into the constitution a provision to protect women in rights as to property, possessed previous to marriage.

Indianapolis Correspondence.

Dear Sir:—

The Convention is organised, and I regret to add, the Democrats met as a party, nominate their candidates, and elected none but such as they nominated. I came, determined to know no party, and to vote for the best men whose names were presented for the different offices. I don't know but those elected were as good as any we could have had. I am inclined to think it is so, so far as the President of the Convention is concerned; yet it looked like proscription to the minority, not leaving them a choice among the great men.

Some sharp shooting has commenced among the leaders, each trying to out-do the others in motions and speeches. Too much of it is done by two or three would be leaders, who will be very likely to find their cue, if not admonished by hints already received, that the affairs of the people of Indiana don't rest upon their shoulders solely. My impression is, that much of the time of the Convention will be consumed in making speeches for home use—many of them on questions totally irrelevant. I would like to see less speaking and more acting. Two of our democratic friends have already poised their lances, and gave each other some severe thrusts, which I am glad to see suppressed in the reports, as it did credit to neither.

I will write to you from time to time during our sitting. Yours,

Allen Hamilton.

Mr. Thos. Tigar.

P. S. Having so many talking members, it strikes me the session will continue longer than it ought; yet all of them talk of economy. It is no doubt their theory, but not their practice.

District Schools.

Mr. Editor:—A meeting of the Voters of the "West end" of this City, being District No. 2, was held in the 2d Presbyterian Church, on Saturday evening last, and adjourned to meet again on Saturday evening next, at the same place.

Owing, probably, to a limited notice, and the first action in this district under the late school law, there was a small attendance. It was decided that the district Trustee make enquiry for School room and Teacher, and report to the adjourned meeting on Saturday evening.

The law requires that a free school be kept at least three months, to entitle the district to its share of the school fund. It is estimated that from $500 to $800 will be our share this year. The expense of a school for three months will be from $100 to $150, on an economical scale to secure the funds; leaving some $350 to continue a school the remainder of the year, or to purchase a lot on which to erect a school house.

There is a special provision in the law, authoring the voters at a dis rict meeting to vote an additional tax of fifteen cents on each one hundred dollars of property in the district, to aid in building, and other expenses of a free school.

In taking measures to stablish a free school it is of some importance that the subject be well considered. And if it be desirable to act under the law for the establishing of a free school, to be essentially useful at once, an increased income is necessary this year. My object in this brief notice is to call attention to subject, and voters to the meeting, who, if absent, may find themselves assessed fifteen cents on each $100 by those who have favorable feelings towards laying the foundation for a respectable and efficient district free school.

Dangerous Position of Marshal Haynau at Hanover.—The Zeitung fur Norddeutschland, of the 11th instant, announces the arrival of General Haynau at Hanover, and the outbreak of some petty disturbances in consequence of a mob wishing to attack the hotel in which the Marshal had taken his quarters. Several arrests took place, and it was found necessary to disperse the crowd by means of the civic guard. The Paris correspondent of the Times states that a police force had to protect Gen. Haynau "from the violence of the democrats of Cologne, who wished to imitate the draymen of London."

Haynau.—The following inscription may be seen chalked upon a wall at Bonkside, in the neighborhood of Barclay & Perkins' brewery:—"Near this spot, in the arms of the police, and covered with dirt, fell General Haynau, Sept. 1, 1850." "The very stones do prate his wheresabouts."

Haynau Again.—Haynau, it seems, left England within two days after being mobbed, denouncing the British people, as he went, as the most brutal and inhospitable on the globe. He had intended to visit Paris on his return, but fearing a popular outbreak there also, he turned aside towards Cologne, in Germany. He was, however, recognized in the railroad car's, and when he reached the city, not an omnibus, chais or hack driver would carry him or his baggage to a hotel, and finally the police had to interfere to procure him a lodging.—Haynau has found, by this time, that the tyrant and oppressor, however he may succeed at home, is the execration of all free people abroad.

A True Patriot.—The Shelbyville Volunteer tells the following incident:

When Capt. McKenzey started with his noble company of volunteers, (Com. E. 5th Ind. Reg.) from this place for Madison, bound for Mexico, 133 in number, he had but a solitary dime in his pocket, and arrived at Madison entirely destitute of funds for the supply of his men. Finding himself and his men in rather a bad fix, destitute of means in a strange place, he resolved to try some expedient to get a little of "the needful." Accordingly, he applied to the bank, but his strange face would'nt command the money without a responsible endorser. The Captain mentioned over several names whom he thought responsible, and asked if they would do. The bank officers said they were not acquainted much with them,—" but they were well acquainted with one Jesse D. Bright." The Captain taking the hint, and not suffering much from bashfulness, was determined to find out who this Jesse D. Bright was, rather than let his soldiers suffer. After some search and enquiry, he found him on the wharf, and made known his errand and his name. Mr. B. asked Capt. McKenzey if he had charge of that company of noble fellows that arrived in town last evening from Shelby County. He told him he had. Without further ceremony Mr. B. proceeded with the Captain to the bank and drew for him what money he required, ($400.) which was a great accommodation to both officers and men.

Terrible Disaster.—Collision at Sea—94 Lives Lost.—The steamboat Southerner, Captain Berry, which plies between New York and Charleston, on her northern passage Friday morning, about two o'clock, run into the barque Isaac Mead, from this port to Savannah. The accident occurred in lat 38. deg., 39., according to the log, when the wind was blowing a gale to the north, and the sea was high. A sail was descried on the lee board bow of the steamer, when her helm was put hard a-port and her engine backed, but unfortunately the bark, supposing the steamer to be a ship standing in to the shore, put her helm to the starboard to cross the steamer's bows, when she was struck, and sunk in less than five minutes. Hearing cries of distress on all sides, the crew and passengers of the steamer launched three of Francis' life boats, and succeeded in rescuing seven of the crew of the Isaac Mead, and two passengers. There were thirty-three passengers in all on board, so that twenty-four persons were lost.

Philadelphia, Oct. 11.

Pennsylvania Elections.—In Philadelphia City and County the majority for amendment to the Constitution is 12,811, official; Florence's (democrat) majority over Levin (Native) in the first district is 1,193. So far the democrats have gained six members of Congress in this state, and lost one.

The Overland Immigrants.—A letter from Mr. Johnson, who took charge of the company which started from Sacramento, with supplies for the overland immigrants, is published in the Placer Times. It is dated Carson's river, August 9. He arrived there on the 5th, in advance of his train, and found much destitution among the immigrants. He bought up all the flour that he could procure, and, dividing it into rations of five pounds, distributed it as occasion required.

The San Francisco Herald says:

"There are now on the overland route not less than sixty thousand persons. The first of those who have arrived endured privations and sufferings innumerable, and it is but natural to expect that those who come later in the season will suffer more severely still. The forty miles of desert which stretch from the base of the Sierra Nevada are strewn with the bodies of dead cattle, while several persons have been found drowned, some by accident in crossing the river, and, more lamentable still, some by their own act, having been driven to utter despair by their misfortunes.

"It is proposed to send out another expedition, with the view of establishing a depot of provisions at the edge of the desert, and a united effort is to be made all over the State to aid in this charitable undertaking. We wish that, by any feeble word of ours, we could impress upon this this community the terrible necessity which exists for prompt and speedy action. It is to be apprehended that hundreds (God preserve us) have already died with hunger, and hundreds will as surely die if they be not speedily relieved."

The most praiseworthy exertions appear to be making as San Francisco to raise funds for the relief of this suffering. The paper before us acknowledges the receipt of over four thousand dollars in money, and a large amount of provisions.

The Pennsylvanian, in noticing the recent paragraph in the papers, that General Joseph Lane intended returning home by the 1st. of December next, says "that he will receive such a welcome from the people of the West, as is never given to any but the greatest of their public men."

This is true, and deserving as it true. We know of no public man in the United States, whom the masses express more regard for, or confidence in, than General Lane. In a late visit to Ohio, we met several gentlemen who were with this noble hero in the war with Mexico, and they spoke of him in terms of the highest eulogy. Wherever he goes, he commands the highest respect and admiration.—N. A. Ledger.

Virginia.—The Household Troops.—It will be recollected that it was some time before Fillmore could get any one to accept the office of Secretary of the Interior. A good thing is told in relation to the appointment of this Cabinet Secretary.

"I know" said a clerk in one of the departments, from Virginia, "that the President could not get along without a Virginian in his Cabinet." "Yes, responded a gentleman to whom the remark was addressed, "Mr. Fillmore, worn out by refusals of the Secretaryship by men from other states, was at last compelled to go to Virginia, for he knew very well that no man in that state would ever decline an office."

One who knows what is going on, or has been makes the estimate that there are in office under the general government, in one place and another, seventy-three relatives of Mr. Thomas Ewing, of Ohio.—N. Y. Herald.

A Rare Speculation!

The Undersigned offers a good opportunity to any one desirous purchasing a valuable Mill property, with a farm attached. The property is situated four miles from the city of Fort Wayne, and two miles above Fairfield & Freeman's mill, on the St. Mary's river. It is now improved with a good new and substantial Saw Mill, with a perm nent dam—one of the best on the river; the supply of water is unfailing for the saw mill, and most of the year there is sufficiency for a grist mill. The saw mill is entirely new, and in first rate running order. There is attached to the mill 80 acres of rich bottom land, about 24 acres of which is under cultivation, and the remainder well timbered. Near the mill there is a good house, and a good well of water in the yard. Any number of logs can be purchased in the vicinity, and being handy to market, makes the situation altogether one of the most desirable ones in the county. My reason for offering it for sale is, that my son who has had charge of it is anxious to move to Iowa, and I

MARRIAGE:

WHY SO OFTEN UNHAPPY.

THE CAUSES AND THE REMEDY!

MANY and many a wife endures years of bodily suffering and of mental anguish, prostrate and helpless, embittering her life, that of her husband, and hazarding the future welfare of her children, arising from causes which, if known, would have spared the suffering, the anguish to the wife, and to the husband embarrassments and pecuniary difficulties hanging their origin in the mind being weighed down and harassed in consequence of the sickness of the companion of his bosom.

How important that the causes should be known to every wife, to every husband, that the dreadful and harrowing consequences to the health and happiness of both may be avoided! Life is too short and health too precious to admit any portion of the one to be spent without the full enjoyment of the other. The timely possession of a little work entitled as follows has been the means of saving the health and the life of thousands, as over copies have been sold since the first edition was issued.

The author has been induced to advertise it by the urgent and pressing request of those who have been indebted to its publication for all they hold dear (but all may have an opportunity of obtaining it), and who have favored him with thousands of letters of commendation, some of which are annexed to the advertisement.

THE MARRIED WOMAN'S Private Medical Companion.

BY DR. A. M. MAURICEAU,
PROFESSOR OF DISEASES OF WOMEN.

Twentieth Edition. 18mo., pp. 250. Price, $1.00.

THIS WORK IS INTENDED ESPECIALLY FOR THE MARRIED, or those contemplating marriage, as it discloses important secrets which should be known to them particularly.

Here, every female—the wife, the mother—the one either bidding into womanhood, or the one in the decline of years, in whom nature contemplates an important change—can discover the causes, symptoms, and the most efficient remedies and most certain mode of cure, in every complaint to which her sex is subject.

The revelations contained in its pages have proved a blessing to thousands, as the innumerable letters received by the author (which he is permitted by the writers to publish) will attest.

SICKLY AND UNHAPPY WIVES.

Extract of a Letter from a Gentleman in Dayton, O.

"DAYTON, May 1, 1847.

"DR. A. M. MAURICEAU—My Dear Sir:—The Married Woman's Private Medical Companion,' for which I enclosed one dollar to your address, came safely to hand. I would not have troubled you with these few lines, but that I am impelled by a sense of gratitude, for myself and wife, to give utterance to our sincere and heartfelt emotions.

"My wife has been perceptibly sinking for some three years or more; in consequence of her great anguish and suffering some months before and during confinement; every succeeding one more and more debilitated and prostrated her, putting her life in imminent danger, and which was, on the last occasion, despaired of. I supposed that this state of things was inevitable, and resigned myself to meet the worst. At this time (more than two months) I being your book highly spoken of as containing some matters touching my case. On its receipt and perusal, I cannot express to you the relief it afforded my distressed mind and the joy its pages imparted to my wife, on learning that the great discovery of M. M. Desmeaux provided a remedy. It opened a prospect to me which I little conceived was possible. No pecuniary consideration can ever repay the obligations I am under to you for having been the means of imparting to us the matters contained in 'The Married Woman's Private Medical Companion.' But for this, one another case would have passed over my head, in all human probability my wife would have been in her grave, and my children left motherless."

Competence and Health.

"LANCASTER, Pa. Oct. 21, 1847.

"MY DEAR SIR: I know you will have the kindness to bear with me in encroaching upon your time, while I acknowledge in behalf of myself and wife the obligations we feel ourselves under to you in having made known, certain matters contained in your most invaluable 'Married Woman's Private Medical Companion.' It has been worth its weight in gold to me. If I express myself rather warmly, you will see that I can not do so too warmly, when I inform you of the extent to which I have, through it, been benefited. To tell state my situation when I obtained your book through the merest curiosity. I look upon it as one of the most fortunate events of my life. I had been married some ten years, and was the father of seven children. I was long struggling unceasingly, to the end that I might gain a moderate competency, but the results of my utmost exertions at the end left me about where I was at the beginning of each year; and that only, with the most shattered constitution, ending with barely the necessaries of life. Finally, this constant effort was beginning to have its effect upon my health; I felt less capable to endure its continuance, while I left the necessity of perseverance.

"This constant, unceasing struggle on my part was imperative, in consequence of the frustrated condition of my wife (with occasional intermission) for six years, much of the time confined to her bed, and of course incapable of taking the charge and management of household affairs. Her condition arose from causes of which I was ignorant. Oh! what would I have given had I the six years to live over again! What would my wife have given to have been spared the long days and still longer nights pining on a bed of sickness!—all of which would have been avoided, had I then seen a copy of 'THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION.'"

From a Physician.

DANGEROUS DELIVERIES, CONSTRUCTIONS, IRREGULARITIES, &C

How many are suffering from obstruction or irregularities peculiar to the female system, which undermine their health, the effects of which they are ignorant, and for which their delicacy forbids seeking medical advice! How many suffer from prolapsus or falling of the womb, or from fluor albus (whites), debility, &c. &c.! How many are in constant agony for many months preceding confinement! How many have difficult if not dangerous deliveries, and whose lives are jeoparded during each time, will find in its pages the means of prevention, amelioration, and relief!

Extract from a Letter.

To those just Married. —"Had I known it"

"PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 29, 1847.

"DR. A. M. MAURICEAU:—Had I known of the important matter treated of in 'The Married Woman's Private Medical Companion' some years ago, how much misery I might have escaped! I have suffered years from causes which can point out in your book, without knowing what to do. I obtained a copy, and found my case treated of. I trust every female will avail herself of the information contained in its pages."

Letters are daily received of this character, unnecessary to present.

To those not married, but contemplating marriage, or perhaps hesitating as to the propriety of incurring the responsibilities attendant upon it, the importance of being possessed of the revelations contained in these pages, an intimately involving their future happiness, can not be upon closed.

It is, of course, impracticable to convey more fully the various subjects treated of, as they are of a nature strictly intended for the married, or those contemplating marriage; neither is it necessary, since it is every one's duty to become possessed of a knowledge whereby the sufferings to which a wife, a mother, or a sister, may be subject, can be obviated.

☞ Copies will be sent by Mail free of Postage to the Purchaser.

☞ On the receipt of One Dollar, "THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION" is sent enrolled free, to any part of the United States. All letters must be post-paid (except those containing a remittance), and addressed to Dr. A. M. MAURICEAU, Box 1551, New York City. Publishing Office, No. 129 Liberty-st., New York.

Over 20,000 Copies have been sent by MAIL, within three months with perfect safety and certainty.

Booksellers and agents engaged in its sale, are making handsome competencies from the ready and extraordinary demand for it, and the extremely liberal terms afforded them.

Active local or travelling agents, throughout the United States and Canadas, will be supplied on the same terms. Communications are required to be post-paid and addressed as above.

☞ CAUTION.—The public are cautioned against various catch-pennies intended to be palmed off upon them, imitating the title of the work as "The Married Ladies' Medical Companion," and various other titles. The title of the work is "The Married WOMAN'S Private Medical Companion," by Dr. A. M Mauriceau.

VALUABLE

Mill Property for Sale.

THE undersigned offers for sale his Mill Property, situate on the Elkhart River, in Noble county, Indiana, 40 miles north west from Fort Wayne and the Wabash and Erie Canal.—The property is now improved with a SAW-MILL, and Head Gates for GRIST and other MILLS. The Dam is one of the best in the country, and has been built only two years, but during that time has withstood without the slightest injury one of the freshets that caused more or less damage to other dams on the river. The supply of water is unfailing, and sufficient with the head of 7½ feet of driving 4 run of 4½ feet stones, one run of Woollen Mill at all times, and machinery could be propelled.

The Saw Mill has recently been put in first rate order, and is considered one of the best in the west. Logs in any quantity of the best kinds, such as Poplar, Black Walnut, Ash, Oak, and Cherry, can always be obtained.

The property is situate in the midst of a thickly settled country, where mills are much needed and a water power scarce, thereby insuring to the owner a monopoly of the milling business of the country, if well managed.

In connection with the mill and water power, will be sold

on which the mill is situated, together with Timber got out for the erection of a Flouring Mill.

For particulars as to the construction of the dam, amount, durability, and value of the water power, &c. inquire of Mr. E. V. Byan, Millwright, Fort Wayne.

SCROFULA

In thousands of Cases of Scrofula, Cancer, Syphilis, and other impure diseases of the blood, and in the VERY SMALL QUANTITY which was sold at a Business to effect Cures of such Diseases, he can prove by the most respectable persons in the Medicine which he ordered and recovered such Diseases—then there is unquestionable evidence that—is such a Medicine in every respect; and there is abundant proof, in great cures effected, that ONE BOTTLE of it contains more purifying, healing virtue, and medical power, than there is contained in four Bottles of any Sarsaparilla, or any Mercurial Medicine that has ever been offered for sale. There is undoubted proof in our pamphlets, that by the use of this great Indian Purifier, they that were DYING for LIVE—they that were SICK, SCROFULOUS, and otherwise diseased, have been HEALED and CURED.

Hundreds—Thousands—

who have used BRANT'S PURIFIER, after having tried and tested all the sarsaparillas and other mercurials recommended, to cure blood diseases, can testify to this.

Brant's is the Cheapest,

because One Bottle of it has more medical, curative matter in it, and, in consequence, cures more disease in much less time, than six bottles of any other medicine.

Hence, One Bottle of BRANT'S PURIFIER will cure FOUR TIMES more disease than one bottle of sarsaparilla.—"BRANT'S PURIFIER" would be as cheap at four dollars a bottle, as sarsaparilla at one dollar. But BRANT'S INDIAN PURIFIER is sold for ONE DOLLAR a bottle; and one bottle of it has cured, and is capable of curing, Four Times as much disease as one bottle of sarsaparilla. Moreover, our Syphilis, in consequence of its purifying, healing power, is sold at less than one fourth the price of sarsaparilla.

Dyspepsia—Sour Stomach!

"ATTICA, Genesee Co., February 1, 185.

"M. T. WALLACE & CO.—Gentlemen: I was for years more than a year, afflicted with a disease of the stomach. I could not eat any food or gaining substance without causing great pain, sickness, and continual vomiting. I was afflicted with a sour stomach. I, as an experiment, tried one bottle of BRANT'S MEDICINE, which, to my utter disappointment, could not relieved the pain of few eating. I discovered much to my surprise, which has completely cured the disease. I am now well and hearty, and can eat any food, anything without being pained, or the stomach becoming sour.

Yours respectfully, T. S. WILCOX."

Mr. Wilcox is a respectable merchant of Attica.

NURSING SORE MOUTH, LEUCORRHŒA, &c.

"Messrs. M. T. WALLACE & CO.: Some three last winters my wife became so debilitated from the effects of Leucorrhœa and Nursing Sore Mouth, that she could not lift her head or put food into her mouth without pain. Her medical treatise at was various, proceedings in the latter part of the winter, and the spring previous, until our child was exhausted in nursing. She became so very a skeleton, that at the time she commenced taking Brant's Medicine she weighed only ninety-four pounds. Before she finished, but by the time she had taken four bottles, she became perfectly well. She rose in weight, from about ninety, to about one hundred and seventy pounds, and gained thirty pounds of flesh in four months.

Yours truly, C. B. GALENTINE."

The reader will observe that Mr. GALENTINE says, "four bottles." He was informed by Z. S. TERRY, Esq., of the same place, he should recollect.

MERCURIAL DISEASES.

BRANT'S PURIFYING EXTRACT is a perfect and thorough eradicator of all the effects of MERCURY, or any of the various preparations of CALOMEL, OF MERCURY, from its system; and it has cured the blood, muscles, and all the parts diseased, in their natural, HEALTHY STATE.

GENERAL DEBILITY OF THE SYSTEM!

Mr. A. HOLTSTANDER, merchant, Dresden, Tuscarawas Co., Ohio, writes, December 10, 1848, and after having stated how like a Skeleton Dr. ELEAZER MASON, of Dresden, had reduced the case of his wife's consumptive cough, said: "I have personally used BRANT'S PURIFYING EXTRACT, for women debility of my system, and I have had the benefit of using it; it is the best medicine to restore and invigorate the system that I have ever used. In every instance where we have sold BRANT'S MEDICINE, they have proved their always medicines the BEST SATISFACTION."

SALT RHEUM,

and all lingering chronic diseases of the blood, are always cured by BRANT'S EXTRACT.

Valuable Tavern for Sale

At Huntertown, 12 Miles North of Fort Wayne, on the Plank Road.

WILL be offered for sale until 1st of May next, after which, if not sold, will be RENTED. This property is an excellent stand for entertainment, with a large and convenient house, and stabling for about 50 horses, with a good young orchard, and about seventy acres of land. There is perhaps no more desirable or profitable stand for business in Northern Indiana. It affords a fine opportunity to any one who wants a good location for the above business.

THE "GREAT"

Indiana Land Agency

OF 1850!

THE undersigned has been appointed an agent to sell all of the lands in Northern Indiana owned by the "Knightstown and Shelbyville Rail Road Company."

As this company is aggressively operating on the High pressure system on their road, they have resolved to put their lands on the Low; and have authorised sales to be made at Two Dollars per acre, on five years' credit; thus giving every one a rare chance to own a farm.

Emigrants can be accommodated with four or five sections in one locality if desired.

The undersigned has also on sale large tracts of other lands in this, and adjoining counties; and is giving better bargains, and more of them, than is generally known; as he is entirely too modest to puff himself, and is not disposed to pay any one to do it for him.

Huff's Pulmonary Balsam

OR

TRIUMPHANT,

AFTER the skill of several physicians had been baffled for ten years, Notice the date of this letter.

VERNON, In., Dec. 5, 1849.

MR. C. ENT—Dear Sir: I take pleasure in certifying that I have used Huff's Pulmonic Balsam for Coughs, Colds, &c., with the happiest effects.

My mother was cured of a severe Pulmonary disease, which had baffled the skill of several physicians, FOR TEN YEARS, with FOUR BOTTLES OF THE BALSAM.

I regard it as one of the best medicines now in use for Pulmonic Complaints, and as such would recommend it.

Yours, truly, JOHN JONES,
Editor & Proprietor of Vernon, In., Democrat.

The proprietor has as much confidence in the virtue and efficacy of this inestimable medicine, and it has proved entirely successful in so many desperate cases, that he

VOLUNTARILY GUARANTEES,

that if no relief is obtained, after using it strictly according to directions for 24 or 36 hours,

THE MONEY WILL BE CHEERFULLY REFUNDED

THE INDIANA STATESMAN.

THE undersigned will commence the publication of a Weekly Newspaper with the above title, at Indianapolis, Ind., on or about the 4th day of September, 1850.

The paper will be devoted chiefly to the Domestic and Foreign Intelligence of the day, Agriculture and the Arts, while its Miscellaneous department will be filled with the choicest cullings from the works of eminent writers. Our aim will be to render it a welcome guest to the Counting-room, the social circle and the quiet fireside.

Politically, the STATESMAN will sustain the principles, organization and usages of the democratic party, endeavoring by all honorable means to promote its harmony, unity, and success.

A weekly summary of Congressional and Legislative reports, and of the proceedings of the Constitutional Convention, will be given during the sittings of these respective bodies.

Our experience in the Newspaper publishing business leads us to the belief that we can make such a sheet as will meet the wants of a large portion of the reading public; but its usefulness necessarily greatly depends upon the amount of patronage bestowed upon it. Those of our friends, therefore, who will be active in forwarding their own names as subscribers and procuring others, will lay us under obligations.

☞ Editors in this State who will give this prospectus as few insertions or equivalent notice editorially, will receive our thanks and a prompt return in kind as opportunity may offer.

TERMS.—The Statesman will be published every Wednesday morning, and double medium sheet, at the following rates.

Office and City subscribers,	$2 00 per ann.

PROSPECTUS

INDIANA STATE SENTINEL

THIS old established newspaper was purchased by the undersigned on the 1st of June last, of G. A. & J. P. Chapman, and from that period to the largely increased circulation since then, and the almost universal commendations of the press throughout the State, it has become the approved organ of the Democratic party and the people. The Editorial Department is conducted by Wilbur F. Brown and National Reform—the latter as Assistant and local Editor.

In politics, it will be thoroughly and radically democratic, and will maintain the principles of the great national democratic party, unaltered with any new ism or doctrines whatever. Its mission will be to proclaim truth, and combat error, to preserve the Union of the States and the Union of the democratic party. It will endeavor to allay sectional prejudices, and to cultivate that spirit of amity, and justice, which is the true basis of our national Union. It will be the organ of the party and not of anymen, clique, or faction. It will be fearless and decided in the advocacy of its principles, but courteous and respectful to its political opponents. It will know no quarter but the enemies of Democracy.

In addition to political, the Sentinel will always contain the latest foreign and domestic news, literary matter and commercial intelligence. A competent and faithful correspondent will be employed at Washington, whose pen will be employed in communicating the important events from the National Metropolis.

During the Sessions of the Government and Legislature it will not half reports of the Debates and proceedings will be given.

The business and financial department will be conducted by the undersigned, to whom all communications on that subject must be addressed.

AUSTIN H. BROWN.

TERMS.

THE INDIANA STATE SENTINEL is printed with entire new materials, on paper of a superior quality, and can also a larger amount of reading matter than any paper in the State.

THE SEMI WEEKLY PAPER will be printed every Wednesday and Saturday, and three times a week during the Sessions of the Convention and Legislature, at Four Dollars per annum, payable in advance.
